DEFENSE RESTS CASE-IN-CHIEF FOR COOPERS

State Given Continuance Till Thursday to Prepare for Rebuttal.

WITNESS FOR DEFENSE FLATLY CONTRADICTED

Benning Swore He Saw Carmack Twirl Cylinder of Pistol Just Before Tragedy. Gun Expert Says the Thing Was Not Possible—Cooper's Brother-in-Law on Stand.

Nashville, Tenn., March 2.—The defense rested in its case-in-chief today in the trial of Col. D. B., and Robin J. Cooper and John D. Sharp, for the slaying of former United States Senator E. W. Carmack. That is, it rested with reservations. In making the announcement Judge Anderson, of defense's counsel, specifically stated that, should the state cross-examine any of the defense's witnesses not heretofore put upon the grill, the defense would reserve the right to introduce new witnesses on any new issues which might develop.

A moment later Attorney General McCarn for the state, asked an adjournment to 9 a. m., Thursday, in order that absent witnesses might be brought on. He stated that he would probably recall some of the state's witnesses for cross-examination on Thursday, but would call them before he began his case in rebuttal. This is taken to mean that the defense, then, will reopen its case in-chief.

Testimony Very Technical.

The testimony today was very technical. Dr. Glasgow was recalled to describe again the wounds on Senator Carmack's body. Dr. Duncan Eve was then called to say whether or not the wounds described by Dr. Glasgow would have been instantly fatal. He said they would.

Adjutant General Tully Brown, who attended the conference in Judge Bradford's office an hour before the shooting, described what took place there, as did Judge Bradford himself. General Brown was not cross-examined, but the state did not let Judge Bradford escape. The prosecution concentrated its fire upon the part he played in preparing the famous statement for the press the night of the killing.

Judge Bradford said he was at the police station that night, saw W. J. Ewing, editor of the American, there with a stenographer and heard several men giving information. He declared, however, that the only part he took in the affair was to write out in longhand all the facts in the case of which he had a personal knowledge. This memoranda he gave to Ewing for use in the press. Later he prepared a brief which contained the theory of the counsel for defense as to how the shooting occurred.

Claimed to Be Friendly to Carmack.

He claimed he always was friendly to Carmack and denied that he was waiting at the telephone that afternoon for a message to come telling of Senator Carmack's murder.

The state proposes to make another attempt to get before the jury the fact that Senator Carmack, so far from feeling angry or belligerent, scoffed at the idea of trouble and armed himself only to relieve the anxiety of his friends. Judge Hart ruled this testimony out upon cross-examination of the defense's witnesses, but the prosecution will offer it as part of its rebuttal testimony.

The crowd this morning was smaller than it has been any day since the case began. The balcony was well filled, but downstairs only a few seats were occupied. The attorneys for the state were in their seats early, but counsel for defense went into conference just before court was opened and remained away until nearly 10 o'clock.

Carmack Bought Cigar.

Upon their arrival in court they called Dr. R. L. Thompson, a druggist, who has a store at Church street and Eighth avenue, across the street from the Tulane hotel and The Tennessean offices. Thompson was in his store the afternoon of the tragedy and heard of it about five minutes after it happened.

Dr. Thompson testified that Senator Carmack was in former's drugstore a few minutes before the tragedy and bought a drink of coca-cola and a cigar.

W. M. Setter, assistant superintendent of the city work house, was called by the defense as an expert on firearms.

Setter explained the mechanism of the three revolvers in evidence on his direct examination.

Contradicts Defense Witness.

On cross-examination the witness was asked by General Garner, for the state:

"Can you tell whether the cylinder of a Smith & Wesson 38-caliber revolver can be turned by the finger without pulling the trigger?"

"Some can, some cannot."

"I hand you Senator Carmack's re-

SUBSIDY BILL STRIKES ROCK

Defeated in House by Vote of 172 to 175.

Opponents of the Bill, Which Had Previously Passed Senate, Wildly Cheered—Goldfogle Brought to House From Hospital to Vote Against It.

Washington, March 2.—The ship subsidy bill was rejected by the house of representatives today by a vote of 172 to 175.

The principal feature of the bill is the provision that American mail steamships of 16 knots or over, and of not less than 5,000 gross tons, shall be paid $4.60 per nautical mile outwardbound on routes of 4,000 miles or upward to South America, Philippines, Asia and Australia.

Mr. Landis, of Indiana, made an earnest plea for the passage of the bill.

Infernal Fraud, Says Moon.

Mr. Moon, of Tennessee, led the opposition to the measure. "It is an infernal fraud, designed to plunder the treasury," he declared. Speaking of the provision for training of American boys and answering the plea of patriotism advanced by Mr. Landis, he said that it was but a blind to hide the giving of the people's money to corporations of shipowners.

The climax came when Minority Leader Clark declared that a lobby had been carried on "right on the floor of the house" in favor of the passage of the bill. "It is an outrage to a civilized country," he declared, "this thing of coaxing men, of button-holing men, and I undertake to say that when Mr. Moon, of Tennessee, denounced this bill as an infernal fraud, he used language he was justified in using."

Outrageous, Says Cockran.

The debate against the bill was closed by Mr. Cockran, of New York. He denounced the sending of the American flag abroad by a subsidy, "as an outrageous concession of the enslaving of a people through the agency of a government."

Among those to speak for the bill were Goebel of Ohio, Landis of Indiana, Humphrey of Washington, and Hobson of Alabama; against it were Small of North Carolina, Kustermann of Wisconsin, Stafford of Wisconsin, Lloyd of Missouri, Sulzer of New York, Burton of Ohio, Saunders of Virginia, Wilson of Pennsylvania, Clark of Missouri, Steenerson of Minnesota, Finley of South Carolina, and Norris of Nebraska.

The feeling in the house was strained as the hour of voting approached. The attendance was probably the largest of the season. Everyone recognized that the vote would be close.

Brought in Invalid Chair.

Representative Goldfogle, of New York, who was operated on yesterday, in a hospital, was carried on the floor in a chair to vote against the bill.

A scene of wild confusion followed the roll call. With the announcement of the vote of 172 in the affirmative, the speaker hesitated to get a good breath, and then said, "175 in the negative."

The democratic side of the house broke forth in cheers.

Mr. Overstreet, in charge of the bill, was recognized, and he asked to be permitted to change his vote. This would have allowed him to move to reconsider, and have another vote on the bill. The speaker informed him that the vote had been announced, and his request came too late.

Thirty republicans voted against the measure, and four democrats for it.

Democrats for: Bartlett of Nevada, Estopinal of Louisiana, Hobson of Alabama, Jones of Virginia.

STROKE OF LIGHTNING SINGED LADY'S HAIR

It Played Funny Freaks in House, But Left Without Harming Anyone.

Rome, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—Lightning struck the home of Elmer Grant this morning about 4:30 o'clock and played funny freaks.

It struck on the side wall of an upstairs room and, passing through into the room of Miss Jennie Carson, played along the iron bed, singeing her hair and eyebrows, shocking her slightly. It passed on through the floor and knocked the plastering off the ceiling into Mrs. Grant's bed, and then all trace of it was lost. Mrs. Grant was in her room at the time with her three children, neither of which was hurt, and Mrs. Grant was only slightly shocked.

The report was so loud that people all around that neighborhood were awakened.

TO IMPEACH SHERIFF.

He Is Charged With Lack of Diligence.

Montgomery, Ala., March 2.—In a statement given out today, Attorney General A. M. Garber announces that he will begin impeachment proceedings against Sheriff Casalas, of Mobile county, shortly.

Information coming from citizens of Mobile to Governor Comer and filed with the attorney general is the basis of the action. It is held that the sheriff, because of a lack of diligence, allowed a negro to be lynched some weeks ago. The grand jury made an investigation and the whole matter was laid before Governor Comer Saturday last. Among other things are a number of citizens' petitions suggesting that such action be taken. The papers are to be filed with the supreme court.

New Record for Mauretania.

Queenstown, March 2.—The steamer Mauretania passed Daunt's Rock at 9:47 a. m. today, establishing a new record for the eastbound passage from New York of 4 days 24 hours and 2 minutes. Her average speed for the run was 25.22 nautical miles per hour. The distance for the long eastbound course is 2,934 miles. The best previous record for the eastbound passage was made by the Mauretania on her last previous trip, when she covered the distance in 4 days 30 hours and 27 minutes, at an average speed of 25.20 nautical miles per hour.

RUNNING AMUCK, HE WAS KILLED BY A PREACHER

Rev. Harvey Eastman Shot George Marcotte Who Was Crazed by Drink.

MARCOTTE TOOK SHOTS AT EVERYBODY HE SAW

And Rev. Eastman Fired to Save His Own Life—Before Being Killed Marcotte Had Driven Gen. Miller, United States Army, From His Home.

Tample, N. H., March 2.—While crazed with drink George L. Marcotte, a valet in the employ of Brigadier General James Miller, United States army, ran amuck today and after shooting at several villagers was shot and killed by Rev. Harvey Eastman, pastor of the local Congregational church.

The tragedy occurred at General Miller's residence, 1½ miles from Temple. Marcotte had been drinking freely for some time. This afternoon he seized one of General Miller's pistols, discharged it at random and drove the general and his housekeeper from the house.

Eight Armed Men.

General Miller telephoned to Temple for assistance, and in response eight armed men hastened to Miller's home. They surrounded the house, hoping to induce Marcotte to surrender, but the valet refused to do so, and maintained his threatening attitude.

Finally Marcotte left the house by the back door. Rev. Mr. Eastman and Davidson were nearer to Marcotte than the others, and endeavored to persuade the insane man to lay down his pistol. A shot was the invariable reply. As a last resort Davidson, who was armed with a revolver, fired at Marcotte, but missed him. The valet continued to shoot, but his aim was so wild that he did not hit anyone.

Preacher Fires and Kills.

Finally Rev. Mr. Eastman pointed a shotgun at the valet and demanded that he surrender. To save his life the minister discharged the gun, the contents striking Marcotte in the forehead and killing him.

The authorities took no action except to hold a formal inquest. Rev. Mr. Eastman is about twenty-five years old, and has been stationed in Temple two years.

NO AUTHORITY FOR ROOSEVELT

To Sanction Scoop of Tennessee Concern.

Seven Members of the Senate Judiciary Committe Hold That Prsident Acted Above Law—Some Members Think Roosevelt Was Misled.

Washington, March 2.—Seven members of the senate committee on judiciary signed the report declaring that President Roosevelt, without any authority of law, sanctioned the absorption of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company by the United States Steel Corporation, and that the merger was in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. Two of the majority of the committee, however, attached certain individual views which to agree minimize the effect of the declaration.

Under an agreement reached in the committee on judiciary yesterday, any views submitted have the standing of individual opinions only. Chairman Clark today reported the disagreement in the committee, and soon afterwards Senator Culberson presented the views of seven members of the committee. These were signed by Senators Nelson, Kittredge and Foraker, republicans, and Culberson, Bacon, Rayner and Overman, democrats. The additional views were given by Senators Nelson and Bacon.

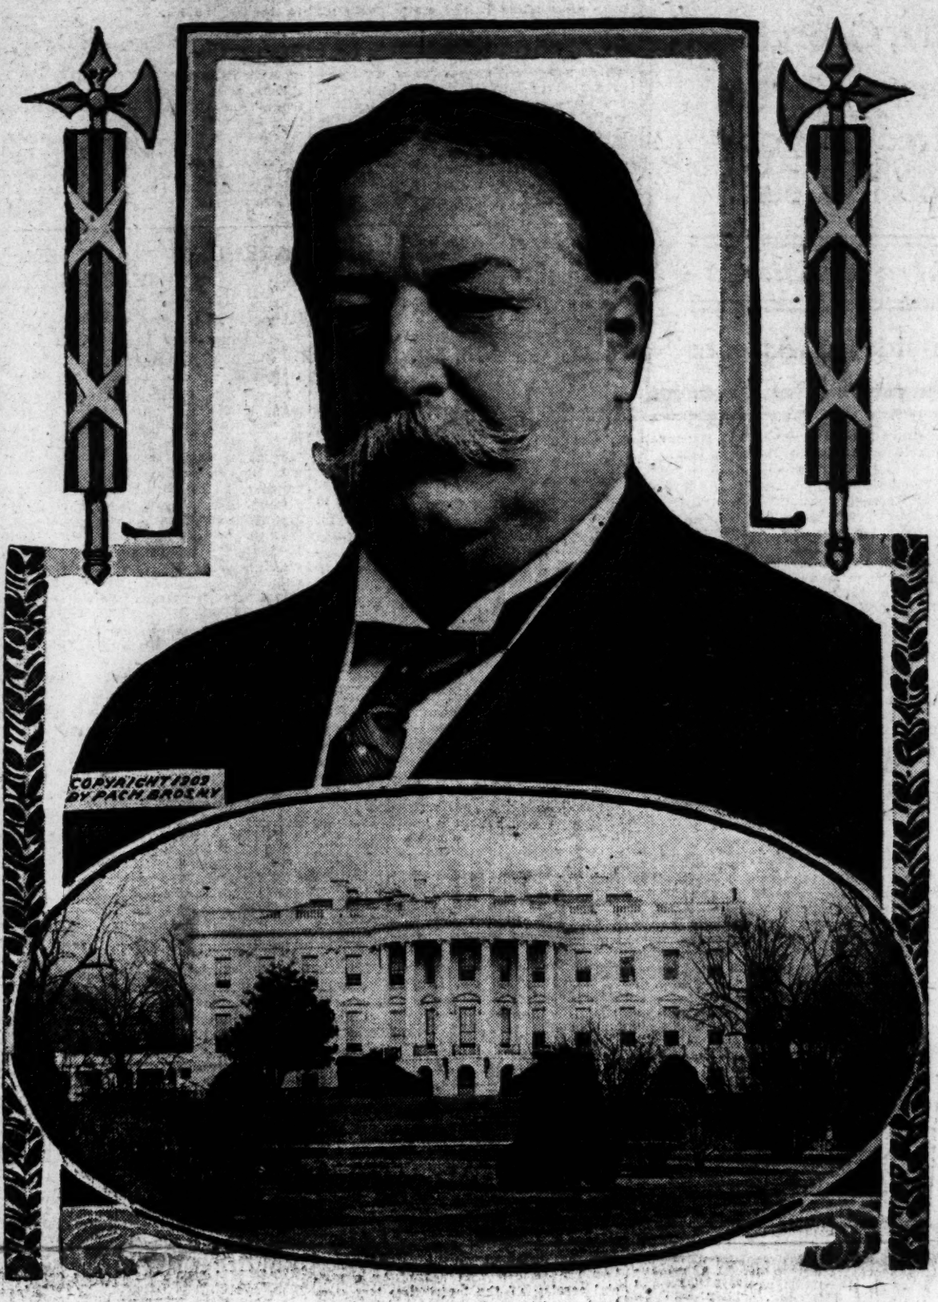
In the opinion of Mr. Nelson the president may have been misled by the officials of the United States Steel Corportation Messrs. Frick and Gary, who urged upon him the necesity of permitting the steel corporation to buy the Tennessee concern in order to save a business institution of New York city during the panicky days of October and November, 1907.

Mr. Bacon expressed doubt whether the senate should pronounce finally upon the question whether the president committed a wrongful act, for the reason that the senate is judge in impeachment proceedings. He takes the position that the merger was illegal, but that the senate should not take any action to prejudice any proceedings that might hereafter be brought before it.

Senators Culberson and Kittredge take the position that a majority of the committee has reported that the merger was illegal, and that the department of justice should proceed against the United States Steel Corporation to dissolve it.

This disagreement on the resolution was placed on the calendar and will expire with the close of the present session.

WILLIAM H. TAFT'S FAVORITE PHOTOGRAPH AND A NEW VIEW OF THE WHITE HOUSE



William H. Taft and Mrs. Taft will spend the night of March 3 in the White House as the guests of President and Mrs. Roosevelt. This changes an inaugural precedent of long standing, as it is the custom of the president-elect to go to the executive mansion about 11 a. m. on March 4 and accompany the outgoing executive on the history-making drive down Pennsylvania avenue to take the oath of office. President Roosevelt, according to popular report, does not intend to return to the White House after the inauguration, but will go at once to Oyster Bay. Mr. Taft's itinerary for the day is about as follows: Breakfast at the White House at 9 o'clock, drive to capitol at 11, witness inauguration of Mr. Sherman at 12, takes oath of office at 1 o'clock, returns to White House for luncheon at 2, reviews parade at 2:30, dinner at White House at 7, goes to inaugural ball at 9.

BLOODY DUELS FOUGHT BY SONS AND FATHERS

One Son Kills Father Near Birmingham—A Father Stabs Son at Savannah—Two Sons Seriously Wound Father at Dublin.

Birmingham, Ala., March 2.—(Special.)—Powell Ernest, 16 years old, shot and killed his father, C. O. Ernest, at their home at Jonesboro this afternoon. The boy was tracked with bloodhounds for 5 miles, and was captured in the home of J. M. Robinson, at Bessemer. He says that his father was beating him unmerifully when he drew a gun and killed him. J. M. Robinson, in whose home the boy was captured, was indicted a few days ago for killing a negro who was being held by the sheriff on a charge of attempted assault on Robinson's daughter. Young Ernest is in Jefferson county jail.

Sons Shoot Father.

Dublin, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—Monday night about 7:30 o'clock F. A. Brantley and Whit Brantley, shot and seriously wounded their father, Jake Brantley, brother of ex-Senator C. W. Brantley, of Dublin. The shooting took place at Brewton, ten miles from here, and was caused from a family row. The father was hit three times. F. A. Brantley used a shotgun, firing three times. The loads of bird shot struck him in the right arm and right breast and once in the back. The father fired three times at the sons, but missed.

F. A. Brantley states that his father fired the first shot, then he and his brother opened fire. He also stated that his father was drunk at the time of the shooting. His brother used a pistol and fired one shot, but missed the mark. Sheriff Flanders went over and the next morning the two men were brought to Dublin. They waived a preliminary trial before a justice of the peace. They are now out on $500 bond.

It is thought Brantley will recover if he can stand the shock of amputation of his right arm.

Father Shoots Son.

Savannah, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—As the result of a feud of long standing, Gus Armstrong entered his father's place of business on Broughton street today and after beating the elder man, Frank Armstrong, was himself so badly stabbed by his father, that had he not grasped the severed arteries at the base of his neck, holding them until he reached a hospital, he would have died as he staggered to the street. His life hangs by a thread.

The father may lose one eye as the result of his son's attack. He also was cut across the abdomen. The elder man is 63 years of age.

TO ERECT $100,000 HOUSE FOR BACHELOR APARTMENTS

J. M. Alexander has sold to E. W. Alfriend the Alexander lot on the east side of Peachtree street, between Cain and Harris, fronting 100 feet on Peachtree street and running through to Ivy street, a distance of 400 feet, for which he received slightly over $70,000. The lot contains the home at 223 Peachtree street, which was among the few houses spared the torch when Sherman made his torchlight parade to the sea.

This home was spared because it was used as the medical headquarters for the army while in this vicinity.

Aaron Alexander, the father of the seller of the centrally located site, bought the property for $10,000 in confederate money shortly before the war closed.

Containing an acre of ground and adjoining the Elks' Club house property and opposite, nearly, the newly-completed Masonic Temple and in the heart of the semi-central property, the site is one of the most advantageous on the real estate market.

Mr. Alfriend is having plans made preparatory to having a handsome bachelor apartment house built there, which will probably cost in the neighborhood of $100,000. It is his idea to have an apartment built for young men, along club house styles, that is, to have it sit a suitable distance back from the street and fit it out with simple but artistic taste, connecting each of the bed rooms with a bath and possibly installing other club features in connection with it.

This much for the Peachtree frontage. The Ivy street frontage is to be improved, too.

LUNATIC DEFIES BULLETS AND FIRE

Strong Posse of Officers Routed by Ohio Man.

Brenninger Is Barricaded in Home With Large Family and Has Thwarted All Attempts to Capture Him. Believed One of His Children Is Wounded.

Youngstown, Ohio, March 2.—A strong posse of deputy sheriffs and special policemen is surrounding the David Brenninger house, at midnight tonight, after an all-day siege, awaiting the coming of daylight to again attempt his arrest on a lunacy charge.

An ineffectual attempt to smoke him out by starting a fire back of his barn was made late tonight, but he refuses to show himself. He has fortified the house so as to resist attack from without.

Early in the day Deputy Sheriffs Al Bell and Harry Hildebrand attempted to serve the lunacy warrant on him, but Brenninger opened fire upon them.

After a battle, in which it is believed one of Brenninger's six children in the house with him was wounded, he succeeded in driving the officers from the place.

Bell then attempted to secure him through a ruse, pretending to wait to buy some cattle. Brenninger replied by firing his rifle and drove the officer from the premises.

Barricading himself in the house, he resisted all efforts to capture him, and kept all persons off his property. During the battle following his attack upon the deputy sheriffs, a child was heard crying in the house, and it is believed one of the officer's bullets had taken effect.

Brenninger used a repeating rifle, and stood in the doorway with his wife and children by his side as he fired upon the officers. His son, 17 years old, is said to have joined in the gun play. When night fell, the ruse of a fire was attempted, but it failed to bring Brinninger out.

For the past two weeks Brenninger is said to have marched back and forth over his farm, rifle in hand, amusing himself by firing at random. On Sunday one of his bullets just missed the head of a boy who was milking a cow. The thoroughfare passing his home has been abandoned, farmers fearing to pass. In the beleaguered house are Brenninger, his wife, his son Lloyd, 17 years old, twin girls, 12 years old, and three younger children.

PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE LIKE GREAT WHITE WAY

From Capitol to White House at Night the Avenue Is Festooned With Arches of Light—Clear Weather Is Hoped For on Day Taft Takes the Oath.

Washington, March 2.—With inauguration day near at hand, the population of this city tonight is from 75,000 to 100,000 greater than usual, and by tomorrow night this surplus probably will have been doubled.

Of the 31,000 members of civic and military organizations who will participate in the inaugural parade, about one-third already have arrived within the shadow of the capitol dome. By tomorrow night fully nine-tenths of them will be here. The West Point cadets will reach the city tomorrow afternoon, and will be quartered on special Pullmans, in which they come, while the Annapolis "middies" will arrive on Thursday morning, as will also the boys from St. John's Military academy, Annapolis.

Like the Great White Way.

Had the sun shone down tonight on Pennsylvania avenue, its own brightness would have been dimmed by the brilliant illumination along the avenue. Long golden ropes of gorgeously glittering electric lights, waving American flags done in red, white and blue lights, shields bearing in the midst of light the beaming face of the president-elect, and other similar devices, made the fronts of many buildings pictures of fairyland beauty. In one tall building the upper floors were a mass of red light, the middle floors of white and the lower floors of blue. A gentle breeze quietly fluttered the flags which floated from thousands of windows.

The avenue is as brightly lighted as "The Great White Way," and the happy throng which laughed its way along it for hours, revelling in the brightness and the gaiety, proclaimed the approach of the day when a new president of the United States would rule over the people of this country.

No Merry Widows Wanted.

The management is perturbed over the possible contingency of women appearing with "Merry Widow" hats, and while this form of headgear has not been officially tabooed, the "suggestion" has gone out that women should wear small hats or scarfs so as not to obstruct the view of those behind them.

For the convenience of the thousands of sightseers the various places of historic interest in and about the city have been marked by suitable tablets.

Military uniforms were thickly scattered among the thousands who marched in pre-inaugural parade up and down Pennsylvania avenue, crowding the broad sidewalks and overflowing into the street.

While predicting fair weather and moderate temperature generally over the eastern portion of the United States for Thursday, the weather bureau tonight refused to make any special forecast for inauguration day in the District of Columbia. There is every indication, however, that the weather will remain mild.

Points on March 4 Weather.

Officials of the weather bureau today recalled the meteorological conditions at Washington on inauguration days since 1873, when President Grant was inducted into office for the second time, the day being clear, but unusually cold. March 4, 1877, when President Hayes was inaugurated, was moderately warm, the forenoon having been partly cloudy. Snow and rain fell during the forenoon, but the afternoon was clear though cold, when President Garfield was inaugurated in 1881.

President Cleveland was inaugurated in 1885 on a warm and pleasant day.

A very disagreeable day was inauguration day in 1889 when President Harrison took the oath of office. The temperature was moderate, but a drizzling rain prevailed all day.

Freezing weather confronted Mr. Cleveland on his second inauguration in 1893.

Clear and pleasant weather greeted Mr. McKinley on his first inauguration, in 1897, but upon his second inauguration, in 1901, the day was cloudy with some rain, although a moderate temperature prevailed.

Generally bright and pleasant weather prevailed when President Roosevelt was inaugurated on March 4, 1905.

First Visitor Injured.

The first inauguration visitor injured was Richard Cannon, of Danville, Ill., a nephew of Speaker Cannon, who collapsed on Pennsylvania avenue today, receiving a painful scalp wound. He was treated at a local hospital and was able later to leave the institution.

During the day Governors Harmon of Ohio, Hadley of Missouri, Fort of New Jersey, Pennewell of Delaware, Carroll of Iowa and Willson of Kentucky arrived.

Mr. and Mrs. Willson are the guests of Justice and Mrs. Harlan, of the supreme court of the United States.

FINE HUNTING KNIFE GIVEN TO ROOSEVELT

It Is Gold Headed and Jeweled and Cost About $1,250.

Washington, March 2.—President Roosevelt today received a magnificent gold-headed, jeweled hunting knife, a present from his old friend, Justice James W. Gerard, of the supreme court of New York. The end of the handle is an eagle head of solid gold, with eyes of rubies. The hilt is of heads of bears in solid gold, handsomely carved.

The coat-of-arms of the United States and the monogram of President Roosevelt are worked on the handle. The gold is intermingled with platinum upon the bright surmace of which are hunting scenes and figures of native Africans. It is estimated that the knife cost $1,250. The blade is of the finest steel, upon which is inscribed "Presented to Theodore Roosevelt by his friend, James W. Gerard."

To Attend Inauguration.

Charleston, S. C., March 2.—Four Charleston militia companies, numbering 140 men, with a military band of sixteen pieces, left here this afternoon on a special train to attend the inauguration of President-elect Taft in Washington Thursday. They will be joined in Washington by a company from Aiken, and the provisional regiment thus formed will be under the command of Lieutenant Colonel Julius E. Cogswell, of the South Carolina national guard.

Spade Still Kicking.

Nothing additional has been heard from our old friend Robert Spade. Bob is holding out for an additional $1,100 on his salary slip, but Manager Clark Griffith, having offered Bob an additional $300 over what he was getting last year, thinks that he is getting enough and has ordered him to report. This Spade refuses to do and it looks as if Bob will not be a Red this year, for Griffith has an abundance of pitching material and is not worrying whether Spade shows up or not.

MR. WEATHERS AND FAMILY.

We have been keeping house for five years and are never without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. We find nothing to equal it for stomach troubles, and my children like it as well as candy. One night recently my wife was giving a dose to our baby, and Nelda, our little girl, cried for some, too. Her mamma told her she didn't need it, and then she said, "Can't I lick the spoon?" It is SO pleasant to take, and the effects are so good, that we would not be without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.—Lafe D. Weathers, Mgr. Enterprise Hotel, Indianapolis, Ind.

The sample bottle of Syrup Pepsin I took, and I can surely recommend it as helping my stomach and bowels. I can eat most everything and don't have any trouble whatever. I always was a great lover of most every kind of garden truck, but for the last year could not eat it, but can eat it now and it doesn't cause me any pain.—Mrs. S. D. Beck, Warsaw, Ohio.

I believe in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. I will never use any other medicine for stomach troubles. The sample has convinced me of its merits.—Louis Edwards, Potosi, Miss.

STRING OF 35 DIAMONDS GIVEN TO MRS. ROOSEVELT

Washington, March 2.—A string of thirty-five diamonds and an illumined and embossed friendship book were presented last night to Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt as a token of the esteem of thirty-eight of her friends, prominent society women of Washington. The two gifts were taken to the white house by Miss May Williams and Mrs. Robert Hitt, wife of Congressman Hitt, of Pennsylvania, members of the committee which purchased them. They were not presented to Mrs. Roosevelt in person, but were handed to an attendant at the white house door. The names of the other donors have not been made public.

While the cost of the string of diamonds is unknown, some estimate of its value may be gained from the knowledge that the contributions ranged from $50 to $100 from each of the thirty-eight donors. The center diamond weighs two carats and the other 34 are graduated down to quarter carat diamonds at either side of the small clasp. The luminosity of the necklace is heightened by a platinum rim.

The friendship book, measuring 8 by 10 inches, is bound in cream-colored calf-skin, highly embossed and lined with moire silk. In the center of the cover, Mrs. Roosevelt's monogram, "E. K. R.," appears in gold. The six pages are of vellum, and on the first page a quotation from "Antony and Cleopatra" is traced in gold:

"Whose virtue and whose general graces speak that which none else can utter."

The book was designed by Miss Florence Pike, a teacher in the Arts and Crafts school.

MISS JULIA T. SANDERS DIES IN WINSTON-SALEM

Funeral Will Be Conducted on Thursday Afternoon at Penfield, Ga.

News was received in Atlanta last night of the sudden death in Winston-Salem, N. C., of Miss Julia T. Sanders, of Penfield, Ga., who was prominently connected in the state, and had hosts of friends in this city.

Miss Sanders was attending school in Winston-Salem at the time of her death. Her relatives had no idea her illness was of so serious a character. Last year she was a student at Agnes Scott college, and while there made a wide circle of acquaintances in Atlanta.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Sanders, of Penfield, Ga.; a sister of Mrs. H. R. McClatchey, of Marietta, and of Laeutus Sanders, of Commerce. Her grandfather, Billington Sanders, whose name is linked with the history of Mercer university, was one of the founders of that institution of learning, and was its first president. The front yard of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sanders was a part of the campus of Mercer, when that college was located at Penfield.

There were few more popular or lovable members of the young school girl set. Cheerful always, optimistic, and of a sunny disposition, it was easy for her to make friends and hold them. Her school record was of the best, and her talents had won her the compliments of her teachers.

Her body will be brought to Penfield, where the funeral services and interment will take place at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

WOULD NOT REPEAL LOCAL OPTION LAW

Indiana Legislators Decide to Continue Local Option for Two Years.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 2.—The senate of the state legislature late today decided to continue local option in Indiana for the next two years by killing, by a vote of 26 to 23 the enacting clause of a houre bill to repeal the county option law, which was passed by a special session of the legislature last September. The action came at the close of a day of filibustering and the contest was one of the most bitter in the history of Indiana legislation.

County option repeal was a democratic platform proposition in the last campaign, but since the election so many counties have voted dry under the new law that public sentiment had influential effect on a number of democratic legislators who drew themselves out of line with their party, when it came to the point of trying to repeal the law at the present session of the general assembly.

WOMAN NOW ADMITS SHE WASN'T ATTACKED

Mrs Johnston Says No Negro Assaulted Her, But She Was Victim of Hallucination.

Ottumwa, Ia., March 2.—Mrs. C. M. Johnston admitted today that she was not assaulted by a negro on February 21, according to Detective D. B. Way, who was retained by the American Commercial Travelers Association to hunt down the assailant.

He says that Mrs. Johnston admitted she was the victim of an hallucination. She had recently been operated upon and drugs administered brought on hysteria. After the Clara Rosen murder she labored under the impression that she was about to be a victim of attack by a negro. The search for the negro has been dropped. Several arrests of suspects were made following the supposed assault and for a time a lynching seemed imminent.

SPERRY QUITS FLEET; SCHROEDER SUCCEEDS

Washington, March 2.—Read Admiral Charles H. Sperry today made formal application to be relieved from duty as commander-in-chief of the Atlantic battleship fleet, and Rear Admiral Seaton Schroeder has been appointed in his place.

Admiral Sperry was tendered the presidency of the naval war college, but declined the position, indicating his preference for other duty.

ILLNESS OF THE POPE DUE TO EARLY RISING

And Saying Mass in a Cold Private Chapel.

Rome, March 2.—Dr. Petacchi says that the pope's illness is the result of early rising and saying mass in a cold private chapel. His holiness catches cold and this develops into bronchitis, which causes a recurrence of gout. Neither the doctor nor the pope's attendants can persuade him to change his habits. His present illness is not serious, and a few days of rest will effect a cure.

PARKHURST IS ACCUSED OF SPREADING EVIL

Attack on the New York Preacher Is Bitterly Resented.

New York, March 2.—The accusation made by Police Commissioner Bingham against Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst to the effect that the latter had been "the cause of the spread of more social evil than anything else that has appened in two generations," was bitterly denounced by Canon Case, of Brooklyn, last night at a meeting of clergymen and laymen, held in the Madison Square Presbyterian church to protest against Sunday vaudeville and moving picture shows.

The Brooklyn clergyman characterized the accusation of the police commissioner as a slander against Dr. Parkhust, and assailed the good faith of the official uttering it.

Dr. Parkhurst was not at the meeting, but a letter was read in which he said he believed in the maintenance of Sabbath statutes, "of just as rigid a character as the police department, energetically administered, can enforce."

EXPLOSION KILLS TWO.

Twelve Injured in Disaster at Coal Mines.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., March 2.—Number 14 colliery, of the Pennsylvania Coal Company, at Port Blanchard, near here, was the scene of a terrific explosion of gas today, which caused the death of two men and the serious injury of twelve others. The dead are:

JOHN ZURICZ, aged 25.

JOHN SAUCH, aged 23.

The explosion set fire to the woodwork in the Pittsburg gangway, entombing forty men. A large party of rescuers were put to work, but owing to the presence of black damp they made slow progress. Fortunately, there was a second exit from the mine, and the employees behind the fire succeeded in making their way to the surface; none the worse for their experience. Tonight the flames were extinguished. A report from the Pittston hospital tonight states that four of the burned miners are in a serious condition, and may die before morning.

LESE MAFESTE CASES.

Editors Are to Be Arrested Early Next Week.

Washington, March 2.—Stuart McNamara, special assistant to the attorney general, in connection with the Panama canal libel prosecution, said today that the warrants would be served at about the same time in New York, Lake Forest, Ill., and Indianapolis.

While Mr. McNamara would not say when the warrants would be served, it is rumored that early next week efforts will be made to apprehend all five of those charged in the indictment—Messrs. Pulitzer, VanHamm and Lyman, in New York; Mr. Smith, in Lake Forest, Ill., his home, and Mr. Williams, in Indianapolis.

United States District Attorney Baker today ridiculed a rumor that the suit had been withdrawn.

PROHIBITION ON WANE IN VERMONT TOWNS

Villages Are Returning to the Legalized Sale of Liquor.

Montpelier, Vt., March 2.—The first time since the adoption of the local option law in 1903, the returns from the town and city elections today showed that the number of towns forsaking the privileges of license was equalled by those returning to legalized sale of intoxicating liquors. The number of license towns and cities in 1903 was 96, and at present there are 27.

The loss of one city from each column was recorded in today's returns, Rutland becoming "dry" by a reduced majority, and St. Albans returning to license. Nine towns reversed their votes on each side of the question.

There was little general interest in the mayoralty elections in the several cities of the state.

Acquitted in Ten Minutes.

Montgomery, Ala., March 2.—(Special.)—A. K. Alexander, one of the two men convicted of violating the new prohibition laws, was acquitted by a jury this evening in ten minutes. The outlook is that it will be hard to secure convictions as this was a very well established case.

General Strike Likely.

Manila, March 2.—As a result of the conviction and sentence to six months' imprisonment of Dominador Gomez, leader of the Federation of Labor of this city, it is generally believed a widespread strike in all the principal industries will occur. Gomez was convicted of threatening a strike against any firm assisting in any way a local shipping firm against which a strike and boycott was declared some time ago. He has also been the leader of several other strikes.

HE PLEADED FATNESS TO PROVE INNOCENCE

Green Alleged He Was Too Fat to Rob Man in Narrow Alley.

Ossining, N. Y., March 2.—William Green, who gained considerable notoriety by his novel plea that he was too fat to rob a man, in an alley in which it was alleged that the crime was committed, added another feature to his eccentric defense yesterday when arraigned for sentence. He submitted a petition signed by ninety women of this place, which read as follows:

"We do hereby certify that we always felt safe in passing this section while William Green was in that neighborhood, because he would never let any Italians bother us. We believe that he has made this place safe for ladies to pass by without interference or fear and we pray for leniency for Green."

The prosecuting attorney showed that Green had a bad record, however, and he was sentenced to serve four years and six months in prison despite his petition.

Spokane Beats Railroads.

Washington, March 2.—The railroad rates involved in the famous case of the city of Spokane, Wash., against the Northern Pacific and other railroads were today held by the interstate commerce commission to be "inherently unreasonable." The decision says the eastern rates to Spokane were higher than to Seattle, a more distant point.

Holding Institutes.

Montgomery, Ala., March 2.—(Special.)—J. A. Wilkinson, state commissioner of agriculture, has gone to north Alabama to hold institutes. His dates are as follows: Tuesday, Hillsboro; Wednesday, Elkmont; Thursday, Athens; Friday, Hartsdle; Saturday, Cullman. Professor J. W. Ridgeway, of Auburn, is with him.

Defense Wins.

Mobile, Ala., March 2.—The defense in the case of Fleetwood Lester, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, gained an advantage today when their demurrers to the first, third, seventh and ninth counts of the indictment returned by the last grand jury were sustained. This practically kills the indictment.

AGAINST BEER SALOONS LADIES MAKE PROTEST

Waycross Women Call Mass Meeting to Prevent Existence of Places.

Waycross, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—The opening of a "near beer" saloon here today by J. B. Jones, who has paid the amount of license required by the state, and who claims exemption of city license on account of being a confederate veteran, has created quite a stir, especially among the members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

A call was issued today signed by a number of leading ladies for a mass meeting of the women of the city for tomorrow afternoon to discuss the matter of preventing the licensing of these places by the city.

At the last meeting of the city council a petition from the Acme Brewing Company of Macon asking that a reasonable and just license be fixed for the sale of "near beer" was presented, but no action on the petition was taken. The council meets again on March 12, at which time the matter will be taken up again. In the meantime the talk of the town is centered on the "near beer" business.

ARGUE SHIPP CASE.

Sheriff Is Charged With Contempt of Supreme Court.

Washington, March 2.—Argument was begun today in the supreme court of the United States, in the case of the government against Joseph P. Shipp, of Chattanooga, Tenn. Shipp and his co-defendants were prosecuted by the government on the charge of showing contempt for the supreme court by permitting, or participating in the lynching of a negro prisoner, who was held on a charge of rape, after the supreme court had taken cognizance of his case.

Shipp was sheriff of the county in which the lynching occurred, and it was charged that he had not used due diligence in preventing the lynching. The case was opened for the government by Solicitor General Hoyt, and James J. Lynch and G. W. Chamlee spoke in behalf of the defendant. The hearing was continued until tomorrow.

MUSIC FESTIVAL PRACTICE BEGINS

Chorus of 500 Will Have Meeting Tonight.

Festival Committee Visits Railroad Officials to Secure Low Round Trip Rates and Meets With Encouragement on All Sides.

Tonight at the Y. M. C. A. hall Professor H. W. B. Barnes will meet with the applicants for positions in the chorus of five hundred voices which he is to train for the Music Festival at the Auditorium-Armory on May 4, 5 and 6.

This is the first tangible step taken here looking towards the musical program of this monster musical offering, which now bids fair to surpass anything ever attempted in the south.

Yesterday morning, as stated in The Constitution of that date, a committee from the Music Festival executive committee applied to the Southeastern Passenger Association for the reduced rate of one fare for the round trip to Atlanta for the Music Festival within a radius of 300 miles.

Those who called upon Chairman Joseph Richardson, wiht whom this formal petition was left, were President J. R. Gray, of the Auditorium-Armory committee; Chairman John E. Murphy, of the building committee and executive committee of the Music Festival Association, and Chairman W. L. Peel, of the finance committee.

In the afternoon Chairman Richardson mailed to each of the general passenger agents who operate roads in this territory a copy of the petition with the request for a reply, so that the reduced rates may be secured in advance of any regular meeting of the association, where the petition could only be discussed and followed by independent and individual action later.

This committee also called upon Mr. Thompson, of the Southern; Major Hanson, of the Central; Mr. Wickersham, of the West Point; Mr. Harmon, of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis, and other railroad officials asking for their cooperation in this request. They met with encouragement on all sides.

In the meanwhile work of preparation for the festival will be pushed rapidly. The architects and builders have selected the location for the stage, and the practices of the chorus of 500 will be begun there as soon as possible.

Following the rehearsal tonight the dates and time of rehearsal for subsequent meetings will be announced. This chorus promises to be one of the distinctive features of the festival.

UNION MEN WIN FIGHT FOR EIGHT-HOUR DAY

United States Court of Appeals Upholds Pressmen Against Typothetae.

Cincinnati, March 2.—The union men win and the employers lose in the long-fought case of the Typothetae of America against the International Printing Pressmen's Union, according to a decision rendered Tuesday afternoon by the United States circuit court of appeals. The decision establishes an eight-hour day for work.

The decision was written by Judge Cochran, of Kentucky, who sat in the hearing of the appeal from District Judge Thompson's decision, in the absence of Judge John K. Richards, who was critically ill at the time.

The digest of the decision was made by Presiding Judge Lurton. The appellate court rules that no contract exists between the union and the typothetae to maintain the nine-hour day as alleged by the typothetae.

The appellate court declined to enter into a consideration of the injunction features of the case, but sustained Judge Thompson on all other matters.

Judge Thompson's rulings, therefore, on the injunction features of the case stand. He held that no injunction shall lie to restrain the officers of the union from advising the union men to keep or break a contract, because they are parties to, or interested in the contract.

The common law on the subject is that if a third party, disinterested, urged the breach of contract, he can be sued for damages.

The fight of the printing pressmen for the eight-hour day began in 1905.

NORTH CAROLINA MAN TO SUCCEED HITCHCOCK

Duncan Mentioned to Head G. O. P. Committee—Taft Wants Southern Man.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, D. C. March 2.—(Special.)—A southern or western man will be named as chairman of the republican national committee when the resignation of Frank H. Hitchcock is accepted by the committee at its session here this week. E. Carl Duncan, of North Carolina, a receiver of the Seaboard Air Line railway, is being significantly mentioned in connection with this place. The man who will be chosen is to be one who is in thorough sympathy with the views of Mr. Taft and Mr. Hitchcock, especially with reference to the future of democracy in the south. Mr. Duncan measures up to that requirement. He was one of the executive committee of five members in the recent national campaign. He owes his prominence in national politics to the support of Mr. Hitchcock.

"There's a Reason"

Corset Elegance Plus Comfort

One of Our Own Corset Models and One of Our New Spring Gowns. Sketcht Direct in Our New York Offices.

Time was when a "Paire of Stayes" was an instrument of torture. Besides being one of the ugliest old things in the world.

Today the Corset of the mode is a garment of elegance, beauty and comfort.

Time was when you called for your size and it was sent you--plain so. You took chances on a fit. It was generally unfit.

Today you select your favorite from a score of models and are fitted by expert hands--by women who know anatomy, hygiene and other things, and who realize the possibilities of correct corseting in the development of the figure.

At least that's the way it is in this store.

One great advantage about our Corset Department is that we have our own resident demonstrator. We don't think that merely having the merchandise the women care for is enough. We give them expert service as well. Our head Corset woman, Miss Scott, has demonstrated for the leading Corset Manufacturers of America. She has been all over the United States in the best houses. She is expert--knows her business fundamentally--knows anatomy--knows fashions--knows how to fit you correctly. Her assistants are competent and painstaking. They know the difference between mere "trying-on" and real fitting. Miss Scott is with us permanently.

The Delice is our newest model, and it is really a beauty. It is made especially for us, we selecting the materials and specifying the construction. It is not an imported Corset, but it is a worthy mate to any of the Parisian models.

For the spring, the Delice comes in the new slender shapes--so gracefully long and sheathy. The woman who wants a Corset de luxe at a medium price will be charmed with the Delice, which comes at $8 and $10.

The "Fasso" is our imported Corset--a dainty French garment with many compensating graces of shape and style.

There are to the Fasso certain little touches that no other corset has. Not tricks of trim and color, but vital elements of cut and shape that differentiate it from all other Corsets and make its grace unique. $12.75 and $17.50. This last-priced Fasso is a marvelous Corset.

Then La Vida. We think La Vida a Corset of real superiority.

Its price-range is wide, being from $3.50 to $15.00. It is a Corset that gives satisfaction not only from the standpoint of service, but that of style.

All the long, strait hip-eliminating effects are achieved most delightfully in La Vida. And it's a thoroly comfortable, pleasing garment. Special attention is being attracted by the $5 and $10 La Vidas.

Special Announcement: On Friday afternoon of this week at three o'clock Miss Scott will give the first of a series of short talks on Correct Corseting. It will be delightfully informal--in our own Corset rooms. She will show correct methods of fitting and will illustrate her talk. Some of the subjects to be taken up next week will be "Corseting for Extreme Figures, Thin and Stout," "Correct Corsets for Growing Girls," "How to Care for Corsets."

All women are cordially invited to hear these talks. The first will be next Friday afternoon at three o'clock.

DECORATORS ARE HERE FOR PURE FOOD SHOW

W. H. Dodd, director of Atlanta's first annual pure food show, which is to be held in Atlanta from April 5 to 10 in the Steiner-Emery building, has arrived in the city, bringing with him his full force of decorators.

"I feel greatly encouraged," said Mr. Dodd, "with the outlook, and the retail grocers are going to give Atlanta the largest show of its kind ever held in the south. They have at the present secured twenty exhibits. The members of the association are all hustlers, and their secretary, J. P. Eves, deserves great credit for the way he is handling the proposition. All that the grocers ask is that the citizens of Atlanta show their appreciation of the grocers' efforts by giving the exposition their patronage and indorsement. The association has secured Lilly's orchestra to furnish the music during the show. Everyone who attends will be taken in charge by a reception committee, who will see that they are well entertained and served with plenty to eat."

JOB IN THE PHILIPPINES FOR VERSATILE GLENN

R. Versatile Glenn, formerly of the engineering department of the Southern railway, and one of the most accomplished and most prominent young engineers in the country, passed through Atlanta yesterday en route to the Philippines, where he will be employed by the United States government in building a railroad there. Mr. Glenn's experience in railroad construction in the south has given him an enviable name among the builders in the country, and his assignment to this important work comes as no surprise to his host of friends here.

He will sail from San Francisco on the steamer Corea on March 9. He expects to be gone about two years before returning home for his vacation.

MEETING WILL DECIDE FUTURE OF AUDITORIUM

Whether the Auditorium-Armory, now nearing completion, shall be the home of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, and that body have supervision over the building, its care, usuages and the like, will, in all probability be settled at the meeting of the Auditorium-Conventions committee this afternoon, called by Chairman E. E. Pomeroy, alderman from the fourth ward.

At this meeting a counter proposition to that recently made the committee by Vice President John E. Murphy, of the Chamber of Commerce, and chairman of the building committee of the Auditorium-Armory committee, will be submitted, and it is believed will prove acceptable.

It is stated a majority of the committee favor the counter proposition. In the event it is recommitted, it is thought council will act favorably upon the recommendation.

WILL STAND ON HANDS AT CORNER OF ROOF

Thomas Lavineo, the "human frog man," who is appearing at the Dreamland this week, will give a free exhibition at 12 o'clock today from the top of the Steiner-Emery building. The feat will be a most daring one, Lavineo making a very difficult hand-stand on the extreme corner of the building. Lavineo is making similar exhibitions in all the cities where he is engaged. His manager tried to secure one of the skyscrapers here, but the owners were afraid that some accident might occur.

It is entirely unnecessary for you to order an unknown brand of whiskey—you cannot be sure of the quality. Clarke's Pure Rye is aged and bottled by the government, and is sold throughout the civilized world. Four full quarts $5, delivered. All mail order houses.

Third Base—D. Harris, Buchannan, Duncan and Sloan.

Shortstop — Freeman, Lewis and Whitely.

Firstbase—Davis, Clark and Matthews.

Outfield—Ayres, R. Hightower, W. H. Hightower, E. Hill, R. Irwin, Troy, Solomon and Goree.

From the above bunch of men Coach Heisman expects to round a good team that will make all the rest of the teams in the south hurry. As to prospects, nothing definite can be said as yet, but if hard work and strict attention to the game will bring out a good team, then the Yellow Jackets will have one.

The schedule, as already printed, is in error, and a revised schedule has been made which will be about as follows:

March 13—Peacock in Atlanta.
March 20—Riverside Military Academy in Atlanta.
March 24—Gordon in Atlanta.
March 27—Stone Mountain in Atlanta.
April 2, 3—Vanderbilt in Atlanta.
April 9, 10—Mercer in Atlanta.
April 15—Clemson in Atlanta.
April 16, 17—Trinity in Atlanta.
April 20, 21—Georgia in Athens.
April 23, 24—Mercer in Macon.
April 29, 30—Auburn in Auburn.

TOM FISHER SIGNS.

This Leaves But Winters and Hess to Sign.

Thomas Fisher, the auburn-haired twirler and former manager of the Mobile Gulls, is now a full-fledged Cracker. Tom's contract with the bold "Tom Fisher" signed to the end of it was received yesterday morning by Manager Smith and he put it away in his safe with as much care as a new housekeeper would handle a $50 vase. Smith prizes the contract though more than that.

Fisher writes that he is in the best of shape and that he is going to play the game of his life with Atlanta this year, and Tom is generally a man of his word.

The signing of Fisher leaves but two more me nto sign up, Ginger Winters and Arthur Hess. Hess has hardly had time to receive and return his contract as yet, but it is expected most any day. Regarding Winters, there is nothing to worry about, dear fans. The king outfielder of them all will be on hand when the final gong rings. It is just one of Ginger's fads to hold out to the last minute, but he is always there with bells on when the time comes.

RUCKER AND M'MILLAN JOIN DODGERS SUNDAY

Tommy McMillan and Napoleon Rucker will join the Brooklyn Trolley Dodgers on Sunday at Jacksonville, Fla., for the first spring practice. Both men are in good condition and willing and eager to get to work.

Without any accidents or set-backs and with an even break of luck, Rucker should be the best left-hander in the National League during the coming season, and he showed last season that he had the goods and could deliver them.

McMillan will get the chance to try for the regular shortstop position oh the Dodgers this year, and as the youngster is getting better each year, it looks like there is a good chance for him to land the place and he will make the other shortstops sit up and take notice.

FRANK ASKS WAIVERS ON HARRY MATTHEWS

Manager Charles Frank, "That Dutchman" of the New Orleans team, has asked waivers on Harry Matthews, the veteran backstop, who was formerly with Atlanta and New Orleans. It is understood that Matthews had refused to sign a Pelican contract at the figures named by Frank, and as the latter was not prompted to give him any more, the waiver is the result. This looks like the passing of Matthews from the Southern League, as every club will probably waive on him.

Will Fight in 'Nooga.

Eddie Jones and Billy Kerr, of Atlanta, will be one of the attractions at the first opening of the new fight club in Chattanooga. Since the passing of the fight law, permitting eight-round goes in the state of Tennessee, Dick Yancey, the sporting editor of The Chattanooga Times, has been trying to book some good fighters and Kerr and Jones looked like the goods to him for the opening night. They will meet at 133 pounds and will go the eight-round limit. This is the starting of the boxing game in Tennessee and it is thought that many more good fights will be booked in the future.

WARM WEATHER; GREAT WORK-OUTS

Reds and Crackers Revel in Sunshine at Ponce Leon Yesterday.

"This is great weather," said Fox Griffith yesterday. "With a few more days of this, I will have all of the kinks out of the pitchers' arms and have them ready to turn loose some speed by the time the main guard arrives next Monday.

"This is an ideal climate, and just as long as I am a baseball manager I am going to bring my team here to train. Hey, what's the matter with you? Can't you see I haven't got on a big mitt?" he sang out to one of his twirlers. "They always are anxious to cut loose their speed, and I have to watch them like hawks."

The Reds had the park all to themselves yesterday morning, and a muddy field it was that they ran up against, but the practice was good just the same, all there was of it, and with the sun pouring down all morning and during the noon hour, when the players reported for practice in the afternoon the grounds were very nearly dry.

The Reds were not the only ones to occupy the park during the afternoon session, though. Manager Smith, Captain Otto Jordan, "Ginger" Winters and Roy Moran, of the Atlanta team; Tommy McMillan, of the Brooklyn Trolley Dodgers, and Roy Kitchens, of the Macon team, were all out, and they also got in some good work.

There were fourteen players at the park in the afternoon. The sun was beating down on the field and loosened up the muscles of the men until they were as frisky as kittens. With the continued warm weather the men hope to get into good shape in short order.

The main body of the Reds and the Crackers will be on hand next Monday and then the work will be fast and furious, with about sixty men in action. The first practice game of the season will take place a week from tomorrow and all fandom in Atlanta will then be glad.

PONCE DE LEON PARK GREATLY IMPROVED

The Atlanta fans won't know Ponce de Leon Park when they go out for the first time this season. It will, to all appearances, look like a new park. The stands have received the required number of coats of paint and they are looking spick and span.

The diamond has been scraped, raked, sodded, rolled and all other requisites to make it a success attended to, and the outfield has also received its quota of attention.

The principal improvement that will be noted, and an improvement that will probably meet with the approval of the fans, is the planting of flower gardens just inside the gates, and the planting of vines that will run up onto the stands and give it a bright appearance. The plans for the flower beds and vines have already been made and when the plants and vines are received they will immediately be planted.

JACK JOHNSON READY TO MEET ALL COMERS

Honolulu, March 2.—Jack Johnson, champion heavyweight pugilist of the world, arrived here today on the steamship Makora from Australia. He will give an exhibition here tomorrow, after which he will depart for Vancouver. From Vancouver he will go to Chicago and then to his home in Galveston, Texas. After a brief visit there he will go to New York, and then to London, where he has a series of music hall engagements. The conqueror of Tommy Burns stated on his arrival here that he stands ready to fight any man for a purse and a side bet of $5,000. Johnson says that he was badly treated in Sydney. He complains that the Australians are bad losers, but says that he was well received in the music halls of Melbourne, Perth, Kalgoodie and Adelaide on the tour which he made just before sailing for home.

HORNER WILL UMPIRE ALL PRACTICE GAMES

Jack Horner, the famous old-time ball player and a member of the famous Oriole battery back in the '90s as Jack Horner, pitcher, and Jack Warner, catcher, has been engaged to umpire the games to be played during the practice season in Atlanta between the Atlanta team and the big leaguers.

Horner is one of the best-known baseball characters in history. His pitching, when a member of the Orioles, was one of the features of that team's success, and Jack has always been a popular idol with the fans, and since he has retired from the game the same popularity attends him in his private life.

Chicago Players Arrive.

West Baden, Ind., March 2.—Practically all the pitchers and catchers of the Chicago National League team, in charge of Manager Chance, reached here this morning. Those in the party included Pitchers Brown, Overall, Frazer, Lundgren, Pfeister and Kroh, and Catchers Moran, Archer and Malone.

Donlin May Go on Stage.

Syracuse, N. Y., March 2.—Michael J. Donlin, of the New York Nationals, denies that he intends to join Callahan's Chicago baseball team. Donlin said today, however, that unless his terms were accepted within the next few days, he ould sign a theatrical contract.

Phillies Come South.

Philadelphia, March 2.—The Philadelphia National baseball team left today for Southern Pines, N. C., for their spring training. Osborne and Jacklitsch were not in the party, and it was stated that they are holding out for larger salaries. Crist and Brown will go direct from their homes.

GEORGE WILEY GETS BAD FALL

Falls From His Wheel as Collins Laps Him.

The Unpaced Professional Marathon Lasts For One Hour and Five Minutes, Williams Winning, With Senhouse Second.

George Wiley, of Syracuse, N. Y., was rendered unconscious and was painfully injured last night by being thrown to the track during his motor-paced race with Elmer Collins. A bad gash over the left eye laid the skull bare, while a large contused wound covered the left knee cap. The injured rider regained consciousness after being carried to his dressing room. His injuries were attended by a physician, who pronounced his hurts as nothing worse than painful.

Wiley's fall took place during the twelfth mile of the Collins-Wiley race. Collins had just succeeded in passing Wiley, having gained a little better than half a lap. Both riders were going at a terrific clip, Wiley fighting gamely to prevent Collins passing him. Thus, almost abreast, the two flashed around the high eastern end of the track almost on even terms. Then just as Collins began to pull away, Wiley's front tire left the rim and instantly the rider was precipitated headlong upon the steep incline.

In landing, Wiley hit first upon his face and left shoulder. He then rolled, apparently lifeless to the floor of the arena. Turville, who, of course, knew nothing of the accident, flashed back around the end in an incredibly short space of time, and it was only by cool headwork that he managed to miss ...e prostrate rider.

Wiley was hurried unconscious to his dressing room, and two physicians, who chanced to be among the spectators, followed at the request of Referee E. E. Clapp. A hasty examination showed that no bones were broken, and that the injuries, while etxremely painful, were not dangerous. Wiley regained consciousness while his hurts were being dressed. He complained of terrible soreness in his right shoulder, but examination revealed nothing worse than a severe wrench.

The unpaced profesional Marathon was the only event pulled off before the accident. The riding in this was at times brilliant. The time was 1 hour and 5 minutes. Williams won by a lap. Senhouse was a close second, while Bardgett managed to get the other "place."

After Wiley had been carried to his dressing room, Referee Clapp announced that the other events would be called off.

JEFFRIES PUTS LIMIT TO HIS POPULARITY

It Will End When He Gets Wallop in Jaw and Takes Count.

Chicago, March 2.—James J. Jeffries, retired champion pugilist of the world, today left Chicago for New York. During his short stay in Chicago he left the impression in the mind of local sportsmen that he would eventually fight Jack Johnson, for the world's championship.

"Yes, I will be popular until some one hits me a wallop in the jaw," he said in answer to a question, "and I take the count. Then it will be good-bye Jeffries."

"In order to have that done, it will be necessary to reenter the ring, won't it, Jim?" he was asked.

Jeffries refused to answer this question.

YOUNG CORBETT WINS OVER JOHNNY MARTO

New York, March 2.—Young Corbett, of Denver, former featherweight champion, signalized his reappearance in the ring here tonight by defeating Johnny Marto, of New York, in a fast ten-round bout before the members of the Fairmount Athletic Club.

Although Corbett disappointed his friends by failing to knock out his opponent, he surprised those at the ringside by the wonderful speed and agility displayed, even under the handicap of increased weight.

The former featherweight champion has added to his weight until he now weighs fully 140 pounds.

SOME AUTO GOSSIP FOR AUTO FIENDS

There will be something saved if whenever possible, as it often is when running through the rural districts, the radiator is replenished with rain water instead of hard water. A constant deposit is being made in water jackets and radiators by the mineral elements in spring water, from which the water of the rain barrel and cistern have been freed in nature's distillery.

Since the new compact between the American Automobile Association and the Manufacturers' Contest Association was made, the Automobile Club of America has virtually declared its withdrawal from the field and its intention to antagonize no further the A. A. A. in its control of racing. This leaves a clean field to the new combination and it should begin to put in some "big licks" before long.

Now that it is settled that the route of the Glidden touring contest will be through the west and that it will start earlier than usual, there is an unwonted interest being taken by easterners who paid less attention when the route was through the eastern states. The autmobiles made east are not as well known ... as they might be and a tour such as is in prospect will be more interesting than for several years.

With regard to the increase of cheap and medium-priced cars on the market this year, James Joyce, manager of the Alco car, who may fairly be taken as a spokesman for the makers of the cars of the highest grade and price, says, "Let them come; the more the merrier; they have their field; they make new converts and send a lot of them higher up for their second cars. These low-priced cars bring many new faces into the automobile field. Some cannot afford to pay more but will be able to do so later. Some others can afford to pay the top price, but figure that they can buy two or three cheap cars for the price of one of the others. They are the sort who must learn in the school of experience. Seasoned automobilists like a car that stands seasoning, that they know and understand as a friend. They figure on the economy in the long run, counting the cost per thousand miles, the percentage of time the car is out of commission, the delay, annoyance and deprivation endured, or the comfort, convenience and confidence enjoyed. All these things count in a car, the same as they do in house furnishings or clothing. There are men using it who saw the forty-horse power Alco a $15,000 is the cheapest car made, and I agree with them; but there are all sorts of opinions and tastes, so there is room for all."

Mymik—I made enough in the stock market last month to buy a fine car.

Synik—Still playing it, eh? Well, did you get a car?

Mymik (sadly)—I wish I had.

A new tone of confidence and enthusiasm has been imparted to the various state associations, and to all branches of American Automobile Association work, by the agreement of the several organizations of manufacturers to support the A. A. A. absolutely.

Due notice should be taken by the promoters of races at country fairs and by agents who enter cars in these events, that the new alliance between the manufacturers and the American Automobile Association calls for the strict control of all racing by the latter body, including track contests, and that to avoid subsequence trouble for the promoters and competitors a sanction must be obtained from the A. A. A. contest board.

ANOTHER KNOCK FOR ROOSEVELT

Congress Refuses to Print Commission Report.

Alleged Roosevelt Had No Authority to Create Body—Idea of City Swells Teaching Farmers Is Ridiculed.

Washington, March 2.—When the report of the conference committee on the agricultural bill was finally adopted by the house and senate, late today, the senate amendment providing an appropriation for printing the report of the country life commission was stricken from the bill, after a second conference had been had on the bill. The debate in the house on this feature of the bill was marked by caustic criticism of President Roosevelt. Messrs. Reeder of Kansas, Stephens of Texas, Fitzgerald of New York, Hepburn of Iowa, Lever of South Carolina, Stanley of Kentucky and Tawney of Minnesota participated.

The democrats generally took the position that the commission had been created by the president without authority of law.

Mr. Stanley was among the more pronounced. He said: "We don't want to have a bunch of men in frock coats and silk hats riding around in automobiles and eating canvas-back duck and drinking champagne, trying to tell farmers how to eat greens, draw water and milk cows. We don't want a city commission to teach farmers."

He said the commission probably would not know the difference between a chicken and a turkey, or a horse and a yearling calf.

Mr. Tawney was sarcastic in his opposition to the amendment. "If we continue these commissions," he said, "we will be having government by executive choice, and not by law."

The provision was sent back to conference by a decisive vote. At the second conference the senate conferees receded from htier demands for an appropriation of $25,000 to print the report of the commission on country life, and thus reached a complete agreement with the bill.

Can Charge the Fee.

Montgomery, Ala., March 2.—(Special.)—State Superintendent of Education H. C. Gunnels says that boards of education of counties may levy and collect incidental fees for schools under the law. Under the old law there was five months actual free school, but this act was annulled by the new code, and as there must be money for incidentals, the county boards, which are charged with the control of the schools, can levy fees, just as is done in the cities.

GEORGIA CADETS SEE WASHINGTON

In Morning Went to Mt. Vernon.

Visited Corcoran Art Gallery in Afternoon, and Took in Theater at Night—Are Having Hilarious Time.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, D. C., March 2.—(Special.)—Washington tonight has quite a gala appearance. Historic Pennsylvania avenue is a blaze of light from the Peace monument to the state, war and navy buildings. Service uniforms are to be seen everywhere and the throngs of visitors make the city resemble New York on New Year's eve. Of all the crowds on the streets, there are none taking in the sights with more eagerness and pleasure than the cadets of the Georgia Military academy and the Donald Fraser school.

This morning a trip was made to Mount Vernon and the scenes conjured up all the boys could remember of Washington and the war of the revolution. This afternoon they took a turn through the Corcoran Art Gallery, and tonight their day of pleasure was rounded off by a visit to the Belasco theater to see De Wolf Hopper in "The Pied Piper."

The boys were very much insulted to read this morning in the Washington papers which told of their doings of yesterday, the statement that they were "Baby-rollers." What if they did walk to the top of the Washington monument and down again? So far from being kids, the boys say they are able to carry a gun and are going to march in the inaugural parade on Thursday behind the famous Atlanta fife and drum corps. The idea! Baby-rollers!

Except for such minor accidents as are incident to pillow fights and dropping their hotel keys in the river, the boys are getting along famously.

DAVIS IS HELD FOR HIGHER COURT

Preliminary Hearing in Rome Yesterday.

Commissioner Printup Bound Attorney Over to U. S. Court—Davis Gave Bond. Charged With Land Frauds.

Rome, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—The preliminary trial of Charles F. Davis, who is charged with using the mails for fraudulent purposes in connection with alleged land frauds, came off this afternoon before United States Commissioner John C. Printup. District Attorney Carter Tate, Postoffice Inspector Bannerman and several witnesses came up from Atlanta.

After hearing the evidence, Commissioner Printup bound the defendant over to the May term of the United States district court. His bond was fixed at $1,000, and was signed by his father-in-law, J. F. Kinnebrew.

Evidence was introduced to show that Davis was mixed up in various land transactions alleged by the government to have been fraudulent, and the United States mails were used in forwarding deeds and other papers in connection with these transactions.

The defendant was represented by Judge John W. Maddox and Judge Max Meyerhardt.

DEFENSE RESTS CASE-IN-CHIEF FOR COOPERS

volver. Examine it and tell whether or not the cylinder can be revolved without pulling the trigger.

The witness experimented and said: "It can be turned only by pulling the trigger."

This flatly contradicts the testimony of S. J. Benning yesterday, who swore he saw Senator Carmack testing his revolver a few minutes before the tragedy by whirling the cylinder with his finger.

The witness showed the jury how rapidly an automatic revolver can be fired and explained that black powder cartridges left a smoke. The defense said:

"We concede that Senator Carmack's gun was loaded with black powder."

"Do you concede that Colonel Cooper's pistol was loaded with black powder, too?"

"Not yet. We may later."

What Mrs. Eastman Said.

W. S. Morgan, who met Mrs. Eastman almost immediately after the tragedy, was called by the defense. He said Mrs. Eastman was hysterical.

"Did Mrs. Eastman tell you what Colonel Cooper said?"

"Yes, sir. She told me Colonel Cooper said——"

"We object," came from Attorney General McCarn.

"Did she say Colonel Cooper said: That is like a dastardly coward, hiding behind a woman?'"

"Yes, sir."

"Did she say he said: 'Now, we have the drop on you?'"

"No, sir."

"Did she say he said: 'Get out from behind that woman's skirt?'"

"No, sir."

On cross-examination, Morgan was asked to repeat the conversation with Mrs. Eastman.

"Mrs. Eastman was crying and grabbed the lapels of my coat. She said that Senator Carmack jumped in front of her and that Colonel Cooper then said: 'That is like a dastardly coward, hiding behind a woman.'"

The witness admitted that Mrs. Eastman did not say that Colonel Cooper did not say: 'We have the drop on you' or 'Get out from behind that woman.'"

Gave Carmack No Chance.

He said Mrs. Eastman did not attempt to detail the entire tragedy, but gave him the impression that Colonel Cooper had shot Senator Carmack without giving him a chance. Morgan only heard three shots.

Adjutant General Tully Brown, who was in the conference with the Coopers and Bradford at the latter's office shortly before the tragedy, testified that at the conference Colonel Cooper agreed not to send a threatening note to Senator Carmack.

After Colonel Cooper and Robin Cooper left, Brown said that while he and Bradford were talking the phone rang. Brown continued:

"Bradford answered: I saw his face grow white, and he said, 'My God!' I asked him what it was, and he said Senator Carmack had been shot by Robin, and that Robin had killed Carmack.'

Cooper's Brother-in-Law Called.

J. C. Bradford, Colonel Cooper's brother-in-law, was then called. Bradford described the conference in his office just as the Coopers told the story on the stand, and denied that at the conference Colonel Cooper cursed Senator Carmack, as was testified by Miss Lee, who was a stenographer in Bradford's office and overheard portions of the conversation at the conference.

Attorney General McCarn asked Judge Bradford about his corporation practice and whether or not he was counsel for The Nashville American. He said he was also a stockholder in the latter.

Denies That He Hated Carmack.

"Did you not hate Carmack, and didn't you often express it?"

"No, sir."

"Didn't you express hatred for Carmack to Miss Lee, after he was dead?"

"I did not."

"Didn't you say you would have killed him as you would a snake?"

"No, sir."

"Didn't you help to dictate that statement for the press which was given to Ewing, of The American, and sent out to the Associated Press?"

"No, sir."

"Who dictated that statement?"

"Mr. Ewing had a stenographer there and Mr. McConnico and some others were busy getting the facts together."

"Didn't you dictate the statement which was entitled 'The Facts in the Case?'"

"No, sir. I do not remember that the statement was dictated by any one man. It may be that I helped with it. Then later the statement idea was abandoned."

"But it was published in The American, was it not?"

"Not that one."

That Statement.

Bradford denied that he ever wrote a detailed statement of the tragedy and sent it out to friends. He did prepare a brief or synopsis of the defense's theory of the tragedy for counsel's own use.

Attorney General McCarn reverted again and again to the composite statement prepared at the police station for the press the night of the tragedy, but the witness denied having any part in it outside of his own contribution of such facts as he knew personally.

"Didn't you, instead of trying to keep Colonel Cooper from sending that note, tell several men you were going to deliver it to Carmack in person for the colonel?"

"I never did."

"When did you learn that Colonel Cooper was armed?"

"In Dr. Fort's infirmary."

"And Robin?"

"I learned he was armed there also?"

"Did you see the revolver then?"

"Colonel Cooper's, not Robin's?"

"That is all," said McCarn.

MONUMENT NOT ASKED BY ATLANTA DAUGHTERS

But Will Be Glad to Take It, If Wirz Shaft Is Offered.

According to Mrs. E. G. McCabe, president of the Atlanta chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy, a wrong idea has gone abroad regarding the stand taken by Atlanta towards the location of the Wirz monument, as the result of the publication of the action of council in passing a resolution inviting the Daughters to place the shaft in Atlanta and offering a location for it.

This has given the impression that the Atlanta Daughters were in the race for the monument. Up to date they have made no bid, and as this city is the host of the Daughters for the coming convention, Atlanta may not enter a request. If, however, other cities asking the honor should make so warm a fight for it that a compromise would be necessary, Atlanta would be more than glad to take it.

"The Atlanta chapter of the Daughters," said Mrs. E. G. McCabe, president of the home body last night, "has not voted to present Atlanta as a candidate for the location of the Wirz monument. The matter of the vote of the Atlanta chapter on that subject will be taken at the chapter meeting tomorrow afternoon. However, the expression of willingness on the part of Mayor Maddox to aid the Daughters in securing the monument if they so desire is much appreciated by them and is characteristic of the mayor and the city he represents."

N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. Loses Suit.

Massachusetts Supreme Court Orders the Railroad to Sell All of Its Trolley Holdings in State by July 1.

Boston, March 2.—By a decision of the state supreme court today the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company is ordered to dispose of its trolley holdings in Massachusetts by July 1, 1909.

The decision is the result of the bill in equity by the attorney general in May, 1908, and the court's decision applies to the Worcester and Southbridge, the Worcester and Blackstone Valley, the Worcester and Webster, the Webster and Dudley, the Springfield and Berkshire street railways.

The decision upholds the ruling of a single justice of the supreme court, from whom the New Haven company appealed on the ground that these trolley companies were held by the consolidated companies of Connecticut.

DANGEROUS PLANS FOR PANAMA CANAL

So Teller Declares in Speech in Senate.

Senator Says When Canal Is Finished He Doubts if Government Will Take Risk of Sending Ships Through It.

Washington, March 2.—During the reading of the conference report on the penal code bill by the senate today, Senator Teller took the floor and spoke on the Panama canal. He contended that the sentiment in congress had been for a sea level waterway at Panama, until the Spooner act, of 1902, was adopted by a small majority. Since then every six months the plans for the canal have been changed and each time the new plan was heralded as the very best one that could be adopted. They had moved the location of the dam from Bohillo to Gatum, because they found that the rock they had depended upon was a mere boulder, which together with the driftwood, had been washed there at some early period.

Mr. Teller said the general construction of the series of locks, such as proposed at Panama, was subject to dangers under any conditions. "I doubt," he said, "whether, if the canal was finished, the secretary of the navy would take the risk of sending the ships of the navy through them."

A Convincing Appeal To Reason

No matter what it is you buy, you do not want thrown in to add weight any foreign substance. The article you are purchasing you want pure. It is for this reason that the laws of the United States are so stringent and are framed to protect consumers against adulterations.

Why, then, do you buy coffee that is not clean and pure—coffee that contains adulterations? You do it every time you buy any ordinary brand of coffee. These adulterations are not put in the coffee by man, they are the result of nature, but it is almost as bad when such impurities can be removed and are not.

All ordinary coffee contains an excessive amount of vegetable matter. It is in the form of cellulose tissue or chaff. This chaff contains over 10% of a poisonous, extremely bitter tasting form of tannic acid. When hot water is applied to it, this disagreeable element is liberated. When this takes place the coffee you have brewed assumes a bitter taste. When your coffee tastes bittter it is a sign there is poison in it and it will do you harm. It will keep you awake, it will make you nervous, it will cause indigestion, it will make you bilious.

We have solved the problem. We have taken the very best coffee we have been able to buy and extracted from it every bit of the cellulose tissue. Does it not, therefore, seem reasonable when you buy our coffee, its name is "Puri-tan-ated," that you are procuring for your money nothing but real coffee.

Because you do this you are getting that which cannot do you any harm. You are getting a coffee that you can boil long enough to get all the good there is in it out of it. Your coffee will never have a bitter taste. You can use one-fifth less than you would of other brands. You will enjoy the beverage more than any you have ever drunk. You will no longer have to be sure that your coffee is not over-boiled for fear of generating an excess of the poisonous, bitter-tasting element.

Won't you think of this in a logical way and give "Puri-tan-ated" Brand Coffee a trial? If you do not find that all our claims for it are as we represent them, take back your coffee to the grocer of whom you bought it, and he will refund your money.

CONSTITUTION PUBLISHING CO.

ATLANTA, GA., March 3, 1909.

The golf club succeeds the big stick.

Another inaugural is that of the golf club.

And so many would like to play inaugural ball.

Probably Foraker doesn't feel like a man in a house on fire!

It is intimated that the Ananias Club will now put on an alias.

The statute of official limitation never applies to the demagogue.

There are no breaking hearts for him—only a few broken sticks and heads.

Here is Roosevelt's record—but it won't stay still long enough for one to read.

And will Foraker command the Brownsville brigade in the big procession?

Mr. Taft indicates that there is no danger of Billy Coon replacing Billy 'Possum.

What an opportunity Washington will have to read the constitution to the people!

Compared with the other, the blows of the golf stick will seem as light as love-taps.

And there's the step-lively, national air of "Dixie" for Washington to march by.

Having already danced, the malefactor of great wealth will not attend the inaugural ball.

Teddy toughened congress, but woe to it, if Taft be on top when it takes a fall out of him.

Mr. Bryan denies that he is writing a novel. He was merely arranging a plot for the story of 1912.

Cheer up. If you miss the inaugural procession, there may be a regular circus after a while.

The bad boys of the Ananias Club may now sit on the green and pick out the big stick splinters.

If the trusts are in the parade, the beef trust will probably march to—"Hail to the Beef that in triumph advances!"

The Chicago News predicts that some ingenious southern gentleman will start a 'possum farm and become rich beyond the dreams of avarice.

And pretty soon the oldest inhabitant will preface the story with—"I remember it was during the earthquake year, when Roosevelt was president."

North Carolina contributes the left hindfoot of a graveyard rabbit to the Taft museum; but how can a rabbit's foot bring luck? The rabbit that lost it didn't have any.

After reading of whale dinners, camel roasts and monkey lunches in his native state of New York, Mr. Roosevelt will have little to say of the uncivilized in the country of the cannibals.

That Nevada legislature was born for trouble. Its latest edict is, in effect, that foreigners must keep off the grass and avoid the middle of the road; but so far they have not been charged full railroad fare for transportation by cyclone.

IN THE MATTER OF CLOTHES AND FASHIONS.

"Costly thy habit as thy purse can buy,
But not expressed in fancy; rich not gaudy;
For the apparel oft proclaims the man."

And the penetrative Shakespeare might have added the "woman and the child," without perpetrating either snobbery or exaggeration.

The "new thought," or latter-day psychology, about which the half-baked philosophers rave so learnedly, might apply, without stretch of the imagination, to the empire of clothes.

There is a subtle psychology in color and raiment and lines that altered ancient history and that is at the same trick in this good year of our Lord, 1909.

One need not subscribe to foppery or to furbelows to know that good clothes have assured the success of many a man and the happiness of many a woman.

The world, which is ever "from Missouri," is tolerably apt to judge from external appearances.

Self-interest, not to mention the finer instincts of harmony, dictates that we put the best foot forward in the matter of dress these days.

The tyranny is not confined to the so-called "society" elements. Look down the line of the social alignment and watch the clerk or the day laborer and their wives, sedulously aping or caricaturing the fashions initiated by those higher on the social ladder.

Whether or not we like it or are conscious of the fact, it always has been and always will be so. Clothes and fashion are the most democratic and the most despotic things in this world, and the man or woman who vainglorously boasts that they are immune, will be found sneaking around quietly "getting a line" on the "latest wrinkle." They have to do it in sheer self-protection.

AND SO THE CONSTITUTION HAS ARRANGED TO ISSUE A SPECIAL FASHION NUMBER SUNDAY AFTER NEXT, MARCH 14, 1909.

It will be the most complete and unique publication of its kind ever issued in the south.

Spring and summer fashions for the current year, fashions for the young and the old, the rich and the poor, the great and the humble, the sportsman and the summer or seaside or mountain girl will be displayed in all their wealth and detail.

You've got to come to it sooner or later. If you are a woman and contemplating the opening up of the season with dread and perturbation—

THE EDITION WILL BE YOUR FRIEND!

If a man, and wondering what is in store for you next month or next summer—

The Constitution of March 14 will set your mind at rest, and give you the information you are going to get at any rate, by hook or by crook.

EXORBITANT DUTY ON SUGAR.

Every man, woman and child in the United States is directly interested in the reduction of the tariff tax upon sugar.

There is, perhaps, no article more generally used upon which so high a customs duty is levied.

It is conservatively estimated that if the tariff tax of 80 per cent ad valorem were removed from sugar, its price to the consumer would be almost 2 cents a pound lower than the present retail rate.

Yet this almost fabulous duty is maintained ostensibly to protect an infant industry which has remained in infancy and shows no signs of casting off its swaddling clothes.

Three-fourths of all the sugar consumed in the United States is imported from foreign markets, and the increase in that produced in the United States has not even kept pace with its approximate one-fourth of the consumption.

The American sugar industry has grown but little, even under the fostering care of an excessive tariff; it is the sugar trust that has fattened at the expense of the consumers.

Last year the United States imported 2,284,791 tons of sugar, upon which the public paid a tariff tax of $142,323,747, or about $1.50 for every man, woman and child in the entire country.

Thus sugar, an absolute necessity, is put upon the basis of the foremost of luxuries. Foreign automobiles pay 45 per cent, for instance, as against sugar's 80. Automobile consumption, however, is comparatively limited.

The wholesale grocers of the United States have taken hold of the subject through a committee whose membership reaches practically every section of the country, with the avowed purpose of obtaining cheaper sugar for the consumer through reduction of duties both on raw and refined sugars. The Georgia members upon this committee are H. Y. McCord, of Atlanta; John E. Talmadge, Jr., of Athens, and W. E. Small, of Macon.

Sugar is sold on a percentage of profit which remains practically stationary, therefore any reduction which they may succeed in securing will redound to the advantage of the consumer. Reduction of the duty to 40 per cent, for example, would mean a decrease of about one cent a pound in the retail price of this staple article.

Notwithstanding the fact that the overwhelming weight of justice is upon their side, they have an uphill fight against the powerful influences which are being brought to bear by the large sugar interests.

If there is any sincerity in the republican pretensions of genuine tariff revision, there may be some hope for success; otherwise, it will be about as effective as fighting a buzz saw.

Right here is a splendid opportunity for minority effort. With the democratic members standing solidly back of the interests of the consumer and justice on their side, there is at least hope of commanding sufficient republican support to force a compromise which may cut this excessive charge half in two.

Unfortunately, the American consumer has had too scant representation in the matter of tariff framing, even upon the floors of congress.

It is about time he were getting at least a portion of his due.

IMPORTANCE OF SOIL SURVEYS.

In an admirable, analytical speech delivered recently in the lower house of congress, when the agricultural appropriation bill was under consideration, Congressman Charles G. Edwards, of the first Georgia district, stressed the great importance to the agricultural interests of the United States of scientific soil surveys, to which just sufficient attention has been given to demonstrate their valuable results.

For instance, as Congressman Edwards pointed out, it was through these government soil surveys that the rich tobacco lands of Florida and South Georgia were discovered and thereby so greatly enhanced in value.

Few farmers know anything about the chemistry of the land with which they are dealing. They may know from experience what one of two or three different crops thrive best upon it, but generally they are ignorant of the particular growth to which it is best adapted.

When scientific investigation develops the fact that land which has been valued at no more than $5 an acre is worth, as the result of discovery of its peculiar adaptability, from $100 to $200, the importance of this work cannot be overestimated.

There are now on file with the bureau of soils in the national department of agriculture more than five hundred requests for soil surveys, affecting an area of more than 500,000 square miles of territory, but with the present force and appropriation at the bureau's disposal it would require more than ten years to make these investigations.

Congressman Edwards has made determined effort to secure a soil survey for Bulloch county, particularly because of the location there of the agricultural school for the first congressional district, but has been met at every turn with the answer, "not sufficient funds."

Opposing the policy of niggardly dealing with the great agricultural interests of the nation, while spending millions upon army and navy, Congressman Edwards said:

The people not only want these soil surveys and soil maps of their lands, but they are clamoring for them. We can a great deal better make appropriations for a productive and important interest of this kind than for huge battleships costing into the millions, in the building and maintenance of which we are literally wasting the people's money. I am opposed to all such extravagant and wasteful appropriations, and think it is high time that the government, which is now at peace with the rest of the world, should cease to increase its already unreasonable appropriations for a larger army and a larger navy. These large and extravagant appropriations should and could be applied with better advantage and with better grace to the payment of the public debt and to purposes that will be productive instead of destructive to the nation's wealth.

It is an argument which applies with equal force to any one and all of several lines of internal development and improvement whose neglect by the general government becomes more marked and reprehensible as the public necessity for them increases.

A "Napoleon of Matrimony."

The editor of The Lebo Enterprise has discovered a "Napoleon of Matrimony:"

"Some weeks ago we made mention of the varied matrimonial experiences of our distinguished townsman, Owen Reeves, and incidentally remarked that he was temporarily without a wife. Our faith—backed up by his long record as an all-around wife getter, has been vindicated, as we understand that on Saturday next the old war horse will lead blushing No. 14 to the altar. We doff our tile to this Napoleon of matrimony."

Mr. Sharp was 71 years of age at the time of his death, and one of the most highly respected citizens of Monroe county. He served in the confederate army and lost an arm in one of the big engagements. He was for thirty-six years clerk of the superior court of Monroe county and was the mainstay of the Presbyterian church in this place.

Mr. Sharp is survived by his wife and four children, Mr. Henry Sharp and Mr. A. N. Sharp, of Atlanta; Miss Annie Sharp, of Forsyth, and Dr. C. K. Sharp, of Arlington.

Cut in Steel Wages.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 2.—A reduction of 10 per cent in the wages of practically every employee of the Lackawanna Steel Company goes into effect today. The Lackawanna is one of the largest of the independent concerns and this is the first announcement of a cut in wages from the independents since the war of prices with the United States Steel Corporation began. The reduction affects all classes of employees and the office forces.

Who Is the Negro's Neighbor?

(From the Gainesville Herald.)

Here is an instance which some of our friends at the north who have misunderstood the attitude of the southern whites to "our brothers in black" may consider: A physician of this section, high in his profession, with his time fully occupied with a well-paying clientele, was called to attend a little negro girl who was suffering with appendicitis. Little "Cuba" was the ten-year-old daughter of Flora Bradley, a middle-aged colored woman whose husband was taken from her a few months ago by sudden death. The woman with several children was left to make a living by washing and other odd jobs. The neighbors helped her in many ways, unsolicited. Little Cuba fell ill. The physician was called. His auto rolled up to the cabin each day and the care she received was as thorough as if she had been the petted little one of aristocracy. He found a severe case of appendicitis. An operation was deemed necessary and one of the foremost physicians of the south was called from a neighboring city at the local doctor's personal expense for consultation and advice in the operation—a distinguished professional man who had treated thousands of cases of this disease and performed hundreds of operations. The knife did its work—as skillfully and as humanely as if the patient, instead of being the ignorant, brown little child of another race, had been a millionaire with Norman strain of blue family blood. Sometimes the papers at the north learn of the story of a lynching. But they do not hear of the hundreds of stories of this kind of quite another phase of the relation between the Anglo-Saxons of the south and the groping ex-slaves who still rely on their former masters and their masters' children when they are in dire distress.

TABERNACLE PLANNING FOR TENTH ANNIVERSARY

Birthday of First Baptist Church Will Be Celebrated by Congregation.

On next Sunday the tenth anniversary of the Baptist Tabernacle, better known as "Broughton's Tabernacle," will be celebrated with appropriate ceremonies. Preparations for the event are now going on, and everything possible is being done to make the occasion one worthy of the great work done by Dr. Broughton's church since it moved into the Tabernacle, ten years ago. It is expected that the spacious building will be taxed to its utmost capacity.

It will be just ten years next Sunday since that portion of the membership of the Third Baptist church, which favored Dr. Broughton's removal to larger and more convenient quarters, entered the immense building erected for their use. The building of the Tabernacle had caused a split in the church, and almost half the members had decided to remain in the old building. So it was only a bare 300 members that entered the new building and begun the work which has since assumed such stupendous proportions.

Today, with a membership of more than 2,000, and a Sunday school with 1,500 members, the church has come to hold a most important position in both the civic and the religious life of the city. Movement after movement, each looking to the advancement of the church's great work, has been inaugurated, and finally carried through to a glorious success; an infirmary, which has come to be a matter of pride to the city at large, has been built and is now in operation; a large dormitory for young women has been established and hundreds of girls are given home influences before denied them; a similar dormitory for young men is now in operation; and a new auditorium and dormitory for young men and women is soon to be built at a cost of $300,000.

The anniversary exercises next Sunday will begin with the Sunday school, which, in its beginning, ten years ago, had only one hundred and thirty-five pupils. Next Sunday morning they will celebrate the occasion, showing their progress during the year.

At 11 o'clock Dr. Broughton will preach a sermon appropriate to the occasion, and following this all the members who have been received since the last communion service will be officially welcomed. Following this the communion service will be observed.

At the evening service Dr. Broughton will deliver the tenth anniversary address, as he announced, giving the ups and downs of the Tabernacle and its enterprises. He proposes to show the place that the Tabernacle has taker in civic movements, educational, philanthropic and religious movements.

BURGLARS RIFLE TRUNK IN BACK YARD OF OWNER

Carry Trunk From Second Story of Joseph Bailey's Residence.

Two hundred dollars worth of jewelry was stolen by bold burglars yesterday morning about 4 o'clock from the residence of Joseph O. Bailey, of 315 Juniper street, when a trunk containing the valuables was carried from a second-story room of the house to the back yard and emptied of its treasure.

Mrs. Bailey had been up practically all night with her sick baby, and she retired at 4 o'clock. The burglars effected an entrance to the house through a bath-room window, and it is thought turned the electric lights on in order to survey the downstairs premises. On the second story a candle was used for the purpose of illumination. The trunk was carried bodily down the stairs and out into the back yard, where its contents were scattered about on the ground. Mrs. Bailey saved nearly all her diamond rings, as she was wearing them when the theft occurred.

The commission adopted a resolution not to cut any wages and all the park employees will receive the salaries which have been obtained in the past.

FEDERAL PROSECUTION

For Those Who "Knock Down" From the Railroads.

New York, March 2.—The interstate commerce commission, through a brand-new legal circumstance, has allied itself with the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad in that corporation's efforts to stop thievery of fares. The alliance will make "knocking down" a federal offense, to be prosecuted by the government.

Part of the pilfering has been going on, the company charges, by connivance of conductors with passengers to accept a reduced rate of fare, conductors pocketing the cash paid by such cut-rate passengers.

Accepting reduced fares comes under Section 10 of the interstate commerce law, which deals with discriminations and rebates. It is punishable by $5,000 fine or two years' imprisonment, or both.

Charles R. Stocker, conductor of the "Owl" train running between Boston and this city, is the first conductor to face the new conditions. He was arrested yesterday on complaint of William Lloyd, an agent of the interstate commerce commission, and Gustave Schreiber and John O'Shea, railroad detectives.

A trap was set for him Sunday night. The three men boarded the train at Boston. Lloyd paid the regular fare—$4.65. The other two, they swear, induced Conductor Stocker to accept $4. This the companys says, he did not turn in. Commissioner Shields yesterday held the conductor in $1,000 bail for examination tomorrow.

Assistant United States District Attorney Crim had charge of the prosecution for the interstate commerce commission yesterday.

Miners on Strike.

Rome, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—Fifteen employees of the Caldwell mine of the National Bauxite Company walked out on a strike Monday, having been refused an increase in pay. The fifteen strikers are said to have demanded an increase in daily wages from $1 to $1.25. They are all white laborers doing most of their trading in Rome. It is understood that the matter has been taken up with the higher officials and a settlement of the matter is expected soon, satisfactory to all concerned.

WHAT RAILROADS EARNED IN GEORGIA

Consolidated Statement by R. R. Commission.

Tumlin Makes Reply to State Treasurer Park About Treasury Guards—Circular Letter About Convicts.

Rate Expert George F. Montgomery, of the railroad commission, yesterday completed the consolidated statement of the earnings and expenses of the railroads of Georgia for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1908, compiled from the reports made by the railroads to that body.

This statement shows that the gross earnings of all the railroads of Georgia for the year in question were $38,576,706.65; operating expenses $29,969,985.72; net earnings $8,571,926.54; deficits $25,205.61.

Deficits are shown by the Chattanooga Southern, Garbutt and Donovan Short Line, Lawrenceville branch, Lexington Terminal, Macon and Birmingham, Tallulah Falls railway and the Union Point and White Plains.

The statement for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1907, the year before the panic, shows the following: Gross earnings $40,727,877.45; operating expenses $32,052,750.87; net earnings $8,725,997.54; deficits $50,870.96.

Gross earnings fell off about $2,200,000 and net earnings decreased about $155,000 in the panic year. The deficits likewise show a large decrease.

Tumlin Replies to Park.

George Tumlin, keeper of public buildings and grounds, yesterday gave out a statement in reply to the charges made in the annual report of State Treasurer R. E. Park, to the effect that as the result of political appointments to the position of treasury guard, men incapacitated for service had been placed in this position, and pointing out instances in which the aged and infirm appointees had practically fallen dead at their posts.

Mr. Tumlin's statement follows:

I have charge of appointing and assigning the guards at the capitol building. I was very much astonished to read the tirade by Treasurer Park published Monday afternoon. I know nothing about those assigned to his office as guards before I became keeper of public buildings at the beginning of the present administration. Since that time I have placed at his office men sound and strong and entirely able to protect the office.

Mr. Hester, who was sick while there, and about whom the treasurer complains, was designated at Mr. Park's request. While it is true that he had an attack of acute indigestion, at other times he was able and hale, although an old confederate soldier. I have sought to help the old soldiers as much as I could in these places, but I have never retained men who were not capable of doing the work.

As a matter of fact, the treasury guard is not necessary for the protection of the state's money. It is not kept in the vaults of the treasury; it is kept in the banks.

The state has lost nothing on account of the old soldiers who have guarded the treasury on the outside. If it has lost anything it has been due to Treasurer Park putting the money in banks that he examined such as the Neal bank. If he had given more attention to the Neal bank and less to the guards, the state would have been better off.

Treasurer aPrk, when asked about the matter, said that he had no reply whatever to make to the statement of Mr. Tumlin.

Letter About Convicts.

Secretary Goodloe Yancey has prepared a circular letter, a copy of which will be sent to each board of county commissioners in the state along with an order for the number of convicts allotted to it, just as soon as the commission takes final action with reference to placing the white convicts on a prison farm.

The letter which will be read with interest in those counties which are to use state convicts, is as follows:

Dear Sir: We beg to hand you herewith order for your quota of felony convicts. You will have you warden, or his deputy, at place designated not later than afternoon of March 31, as the convicts will be delivered to you at the camp at sunrise of April 1. You will make all necessary arrangements for the care and transportation of the convicts after receiving them. We suggest that you take one experienced guard from the camp at which you will receive the convicts, unless you have been working the convicts, and even then a guard who has some knowledge of the convicts you are to get will be of much value to you. You will find at the camp a number of good guns, such as we have decided are the best and most economical for use in guarding convicts. If you so wish you can take as many of these guns as you desire, and the commission will be pleased to sell them to you at greatly reduced price, say $10 per gun, which you can remit after the convicts are received at your county camp.

We trust you have made all necessary arrangements for the labor of the convicts, and will use your best efforts to see that they are properly cared for and securely held. We feel that we should caution you as to their safe-keeping. They will require more guards than misdemeanor convicts, and you will find it cheaper to hold those you first receive than to go to the cost of transportation of getting new men, who are not in physical condition to do the same labor. Have your warden to report number of convicts received the day he arrives at your camp, and at once enter them on his register. We have heretofore sent you printed instructions for guidance of warden in making out and rendering reports. With best wishes for success of your work with the convicts, and hoping our association may prove to be pleasant and profitable to your county, we are, respectfully, etc.

Another Inspection Postponed.

As the result of Major F. L. Palmer's illness at Brunswick, the inspection of the infantry company at Thomasville, which was to have taken place today, has been postponed until the latter part of April, in addition to those formerly postponed at Waycross and Valdosta. Major Palmer injured his foot while inspecting Troop B. at McIntosh a few days ago, and has since been confined to his bed. He states, however, that he will be able to resume the inspections tomorrow, when he will inspect the company at Fitzgerald.

Paying the Tag Tax.

As the result of the notification sent out by the state department of agriculture, directing that the tag tax would have to be paid on all bulk fertilizer materials sold to farmers who do their own mixing, several hundred dollars have been sent in already and the checks are still coming. One concern sent in a check for $86, which pays the tax on 860 tons. When attention was called to the fact that such sales were in violation of the law, unless accompanied by analysis and the tax paid, and that prosecutions were liable to follow, those liable promptly came across with the cash.

Last Cabinet Meeting.

Washington, March 2.—The last regular meeting of President Roosevelt's cabinet was held today. There was little business, the time being spent in farewells and reminiscences. The president expressed regret at parting with the body and extended his best wishes. The cabint officers will follow the customary course of turning in their resignation, which will be acted upon by the incoming president as soon as his cabinet has been confirmed by the senate.

Nearsighted Eyes

People with this condition never fully realize how much they miss and how much they are restricted until they have had proper glasses fitted. The only way to correct this trouble is with glasses, and it will continue to grow worse until this is done.

We have every facility for making thorough examinations of the eyes and fitting glasses in cases of this kind.

THE WEATHER TODAY: IT WILL TURN FAIR

Though Barometer Is Still Low, Conditions Are Not Favorable for Rain.

Forecast for today: Fair. Although the barometer is still low over most of the central valley and southern states, the conditions do not seem favorable for further rain. Moderate rains occurred throughout the country east of the Mississippi river and south of the Ohio, as well as on the north Atlantic coast.

The center of the storm lies in western Pennsylvania, but the depression is moderate. Fair, slightly cooler weather prevails west of the Mississippi and in the Mississippi valley. The lowest temperature reported was 20 degrees above zero at Duluth, St. Paul and Marquette.

Thunderstorms occurred at several southern points, including Atlanta, Birmingham and Meridian. The rainfall in this city measured only .28 of an inch. The highest temperature was at 65 degrees above.

"I'm off for Washington, D. C., this morning," said the Gopher, "to be present when my friend Willie Howard Taft is inducted into office. I want to see the job well done, besides I am anxious to look at that famous smile again. He has promised to be real decent to the south and I think he meant what he said, too. I shall try to remind him that when the 'possums give out in Georgia, we still have coon meat. I have given my private secretary instructions to let me know at once if any serious change takes place in the weather."

HE WANTS TO SEE THE JOB WELL DONE.

Death of George Streyer.

Macon, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—George Streyer, aged 74 years, and one of the most widely known men in the army of laborers in the community, died at his home, 2505 Second street, at noon today, after a lingering illness. He came to America from Germany when he was four years of age and for more than a quarter of a century has been in the iron moulder's business with the Schofield Sons Company. He was a prominent member of the Odd Fellows and had scores of friends. The funeral will occur Thursday afternoon.

REPORTS MADE ON NEW CHARTER

Charter Revision Committee Holds Meeting.

Committees Make Reports But None Had Completed Work. Edgar Watkins Makes Talk on Commission Form of Government in Texas Cities.

The charter revision committee of forty-nine met yesterday afternoon and heard reports from the special committees on the forms of government of different cities in this country and in Europe.

The feature of the meeting was a talk made by Edgar Watkins on the commission form of government that has been tried in cities in Texas.

When the roll was called the following members of the committee answered to their names:

Chairman E. V. Carter, Secretary Press Huddleston, Mayor R. F. Maddox, F. A. Quillian, Edgar Watkins, John E. Murphy, Craig Cofield, E. C. Kontz, E. C. Peters, Charles T. Hopkins, R. J. Guinn, F. O. Foster, David Woodward, W. H. Kiser, Aldine Chambers, George Hillyer, Hugh T. Inman, E. W. Martin, C. M. Roberts, A. L. Curtis, Frank P. Rice, F. A. Pittman, W. M. Smith, Clark Howell, J. W. English, W. L. Peel, A. V. Gude, Morris Rich, J. C. Logan.

On motion of Mr. Quillian, Colonel E. E. Pomeroy was elected treasurer of the committee.

Committees Make Reports.

Reports of committees were called for.

Chairman F. A. Quillian, of the committee on a commission form of government, reported that his committee had held a meeting and he, under instructions, had written to all cities which had the commission form of government for charters. Some had been received and more would be forthcoming. He said he had heard from Galveston, Dallas and Fort Worth, Tex., DesMoines, Iowa, and Chelsea, Mass. He had also received information from the Economic Club, of Boston, which had given the commission form of government much study.

Mr. Peters, as chairman of the committee on cities east of the Mississippi river, stated that his committee had held a meeting and was now receiving city charters which would be carefully examined.

George Hillyer, chairman of the committee on cities west of the Mississippi river, reported that much headway had been made in securing city charters.

A. W. Gude, in the absence of the chairman on European cities, stated that steps had been taken to secure data as to how city governments across the ocean were conducted.

Mr. Kontz, in the absence of Chairman Forrest Adair, stated that the committee on the city of Washington had taken steps to formulate a full report, and would be ready later on. Mr. Kontz stated that Miss Rankin, librarian of the Carnegie library, had consented to secure books on various city governments.

The Commission Plan.

Mayor Maddox said it was gratifying to know that all the committees had made good progress. On his motion, Mr. Watkins was requested to make a talk on the commission form of government.

Mr. Watkins spoke of the cities of Galveston, Houston, Fort Worth, Austin, Dallas and Waco. He said that in the cities where the commission plan had been tried it had proven successful. Galveston, he said, was the first city to try the plan. It is governed by a mayor and four commissioners, who have entire control of all city affairs. The people elect this body. He said that all cities that had tried the new plan had been run at less expense, and had made more public improvements.

On motion of Mr. Howell the chairman instructed the committees to have full reports for the next meeting, which will take place within two weeks.

The committee adjourned to meet two weeks from yesterday, and by that time it is believed that all the committees will be able to furnish very valuable and interesting information for the general committee.

SEVERE PUNISHMENT FOR ALLEGED TIGERS

J. R. Sims and R. L. Veal Are Fined and Bound Over.

Alleged violators of the prohibition laws were again in evidence in yesterday afternoon's session of the police court.

J. R. Sims, near beer dealer at 502 Decatur, were arraigned on the charge formerly conducted the place at 502 ecatur, were arraigned on the charge of selling whisky, and bound over under the charges. Bond was fixed at $500. Sims was also fined $500 for a violation of section 1537 of the city code, and Veal was fined $100 for a violation of the traveling blind tiger ordinance. Attorney Sam Hewlett filed an appeal of certiorari, and certiorari bonds were fixed at double the amount of the fine of each man.

Policeman G. M. Gorman, recently elected to the force as a supernumerary, testified that he had bought a pint of whisky at Sims' near beer place, giving the money, a dollar bill, to Veal, who, in turn, gave it to another man, e either to Sims, as Gorman thought, or to a man named Jake DeVigny, as Veal and others contended. DeVigny was recently discharged from Sims' place, according to Sims. He is said to be in Rock Hill, S. C.

Veal said Gorman came in the place and said he was sick, asking for some whisky. Veal said he gave it to him. Sims stoutly maintained that he was not present, and after the sentence was passed on him still declared his innocence.

Macon, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—A. Block sold the property at the corner of Plum and Third streets today to Isaac Block for the sum of $5,000. The price paid was fair, all things considered.

WARD CHANGES AFFECT COUNCIL

Three in Fifth Will Live in Sixth.

Councilman Walraven, of Fifth Ward, Is Only Member of Council Who Changes His Ward and Who Holds Over Next Year.

How will the redistricting of the city affect the aldermen and councilmen?

Since the general council has divided the city into ten wards and has changed all of the ward lines, much interest is being manifested in how the aldermen and councilmen will stand as to location.

The alderman and two councilmen in the first ward will still reside in the new first ward; the situation is the same in the second, third and fourth wards.

By the change of the west line of the sixth ward and the east line of the fifth ward, both the alderman and the two councilmen in the fifth ward will reside in the new sixth ward. That is, Alderman H. M. Beutell and Councilmen Winn and Walraven now reside in that part of the fifth ward which will next year become a part of the sixth ward.

As the terms of Alderman Beutell and Councilman Winn expire this year, the change from one ward into another of their residences will not cause any difficulty; but as Councilman Walraven's term does not expire until the last of next year his case becomes interesting.

Which Will He Represent?

Next year Councilman Walraven, while having been elected from the fifth ward, will reside in the sixth. To meet such a situation, the redistricting committee has provided a resolution, which council adopted, that will either allow Councilman Walraven to represent the fifth ward, although residing in the sixth, or he will be changed from a fifth ward to a sixth ward councilman. In the former case, the fifth ward will elect an alderman and one councilman this year; in the latter case, the sixth ward will not elect any councilman, as the hold-over in that ward, Councilman Amorous, and Councilman Walraven will make the two. The charter amendment will state which plan will be adopted.

In the sixth, the seventh, the eighth and the ninth wards, none of the aldermen and councilmen will be affected by the change of ward lines.

The redistricting ordinance, which was adopted by the general council last Monday, must be passed upon by the legislature as a charter amendment. In the account of council's action given in yesterday's Constitution, the new territory named, with Oakland City, was that which the committee decided to annex and which was published in The Constitution some time ago. Council took in no new territory except that which had been considered by the committee at all of its sessions during the past month.

SOUTHERN CULTIVATOR IS 67 YEARS YOUNG

"The Southern Cultivator," published in Atlanta, has just celebrated its sixty-seventh birthday. It is sixty-seven years young and vigorous, and still expanding.

Founded by Dr. George F. Hunnicutt in 1843, it was a power in southern agriculture for many years before the war. War hardly wrinkled its front, and it managed to scrape through the troublous sixties without missing an issue. Since the war the magazine, which is a semi-monthly, has held its own and progressed steadily.

It was quick to adapt itself to the revolutionized environment of the new south, and during the trying days when energy and hope were reasserting themselves, it was a very pillar of strength and inspiration.

George F. Hunnicutt, son of the founder, has succeeded his father as editor, and with T. F. Hunnicutt and W. L. Hunnicutt, control the publication.

The anniversary edition is a notable one. It might broadly be termed a summarizing of the policies and history of the Southern Cultivator. The editor recapitulates the things in agriculture for which the magazine has stood and consistently fought. Articles covering every phase of the planting and plantation life, vividly illustrated, are presented in superabundance.

BUY OYSTER BEDS?

Gov.-Elect Says it Would Be a Good Investment.

Savannah, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—Governor-elect Brown today suggested that the state could secure substantial revenue through the purchase and development of oyster beds along the coast and in the business of oyster canning. He cites the industry which the states carry on in Maryland and Virginia.

The governor-elect believes that the constant thefts on the oyster beds would be greatly decreased if the state owned them, while the revenue accruing could help build up a big school, or other fund.

THE WORLD'S PREMIER MINERAL WATER.

In many localities all over the world, Nature has made use of water as a means of conveying to humanity, various and greatly needed mineral properties, invaluable to human economy. However, it is agreed by Scientists that Nature made her supreme triumph in Alabama.

From a well near Greenville there flows a water that is a combination of Sulphuric Acid and Iron, such as Medical Science has long been in need of. This water is of an efficacy which physicians had long despaired of attaining through artifical combinations.

It is known to the world as Wilkinson's Matchless Mineral Water, and is without doubt the greatest internal and external antiseptic known today. When taken internally it is the greatest tonic and digestant available, relieving heartburn and "full stomach" in two doses. Take this water with meals and you can eat anything in the world you want, and suffer absolutely no unpleasant consequences. Its use will certainly cure the more aggravated forms of dyspepsia, no matter how chronic they may have become, and will insure perfect digestion and fullest assimilation of all food eaten.

Because of its antiseptic styptic properties, it is also equally effective in the relief and cure of bowel troubles, being especially valuable in relieving and preventing the hemorrhage of typhoid.

Wilkinson's Matchless Mineral Water is unlike any other water of merit. Because of the great concentration and strength of its medicinal properties. It is so strong that dilution is necessary, one tea to tablespoonful being a dose, taken in half-glass ordinary water. The fact of its great natural concentration makes one gallon of this water go further than a barrel of other waters, and the great concentration allows it shipment all over the world at a minimum cost, which saves patients the heavy expense of traveling to a health resort. In fact, it makes every home a health resort, and at an economy greater than was ever dreamed of before, when considered in the light of its wonderful curative powers.

Its use for skin troubles has been followed with the most wonderful success known, especially in the relief of Eczema. Its antiseptic properties give immediate relief, and it is not too strong a statement based upon fact and experience, to say that it is a sure cure for any form of skin disease.

This water is sold at all druggists in 50c and $1.00 bottles, and as it constitutes a veritable medicine chest in itself, it should be in every home in the land. Have your own supplied through an immediate purchase.

Happened Early in the Morning.

Mrs. Morris Had Just Carried Her Children to Work—Negro Caught Later Is Held by Police.

She screamed as she was attacked, and that is the last she knew for several minutes, as she was choked into insensibility.

Two hours later the police arrested a negro named Mack Cheney, who filled the description given by Mrs. Morris. He was carried before her for identification. She said he looked like the negro and she believed he was the negro. Cheney works for the Southern mill. He will be held for further investigation.

SOCIETY

Madame Yaw to Return.

Yaw has come and gone, but will come again. On Thursday, March 4, the Atlanta Musical Association will hold its inauguration—that of bringing outside artists to Atlanta, one of its many branches, and Yaw will return on that date.

While at the Piedmont on Sunday last on her way from North Carolina to Alabama the writer had the privilege of meeting Mme. Yaw, and the never-failing criterion that true greatness is characterized by simplicity, dominated the thoughts I took with me after my visit to her—the simplicity of strength.

I will say Miss Yaw, or Mrs. Vere Goldthwaite, for this great woman is a true American and does not see why she is called "Madame."

Miss Yaw has a shrinking and sensitively refined nature, but one that inspires friendship, and, as she knows her way, she opens the doors to her noble character, which is far from one-sided, but naturally music is a conspicuous part of her life.

After a chat about her coming concert here, her deep interest in the Atlanta Musical Association, which she has prophesied to become a great power for the upbuilding of true art in this section of the world, and of her acquaintance here—among them Margaret Claire, or better known as Miss Claire Sheehan—she replied to a question:

"Yes, I trill on D and E above high C and end on the G above."

I suppose I looked puzzled, for she sprang lightly to the piano and showed me just where it was, but she added: "That is so very easy for me to do."

When I told her that some had reserved seats on the first row in order to examine closely how she did it, she replied earnestly:

"I am glad of it, but the secret of it is that I have never allowed my voice to be forced and have let it develop gradually."

She told me what may be a surprise to many—that while in Europe she met Mr. Russell, of the Boston opera, who declares her voice to be mezzo-soprano and if she decides to sing in Boston, Mr. Russell will probably assign her to those roles. With a doubting shrug of the shoulder she said: "I do not know what my voice is."

Her range is from G below middle C to B flat above high C, I believe it is; anyway, it is four tones higher than any known voice. Many stories are afloat regarding her origin and that of her name. The correct story is that she was born in Los Angeles, Cal., about thirty-five years ago; that the name was always Yaw, though spelled differently by the Huguenots, who migrated from France to Scotland. While in Italy Miss Yaw was obliged to change her name on account of the Italians being unable to pronounce it, so she took the first two letters to her name, added a V and her sister's name, which, combined, made Elvanna. Her name was changed to Mrs. Vere Goldthwaite, preceded by a pretty romance, which I judge still exists.

Then she turned to me and asked: "How do you like my little boy?" Her little boy weighs about 200, but his weight is not all physical, for he is an author and a lawyer, and with pride she handed me one of his late addresses, which was delivered to congress by Mr. Owen, entitled "Memorial of Mr. Vere Goldthwaite." It deals with the subject of woman's suffrage. Being a lawyer, he has treated the subject from a legal standpoint, and it is a strong plea for woman's suffrage.

Yaw is not handsome, only the beauty from within that shines through her spiritual face makes her so; hence the division of opinion. To me, as we parted at the elevator and I looked up to her as I sank out of sight—she was beautiful.

BERTHA HARWOOD.

Tabernacle Chorus.

On Friday evening, March 19, the Baptist Tabernacle chorus of sixty voices, under the leadership of Mr. A. C. Boatman, will render a very interesting program, consisting of selected choruses from some of the great oratorios. They will be assisted by the best soloists in the city, both vocal and instrumental. Miss Margaret Lilly Ford, who never fails to please her audience, will also appear on the program in some of her best impersonations. During the program Dr. E. M. Poteat, president of Furman University, of Greenville, S. C., will give a twenty-minute lecture on "Music," its place in the church, etc. This alone will be worth the price of admission. All proceeds go to help bear the expense of the March Bible Conference, which begins March 12. Come and bring your friends, enjoy a feast of music, and help the things that help people and make Atlanta a better city.

The Tissue Paper Ball.

The executive committee of the tissue paper ball met yesterday with Mrs. Robert J. Lowry to discuss the arrangements for the forthcoming ball, which will take place in the new auditorium after Easter. The ball is being given under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Boys' Club, of which auxiliary Mrs. Preston Arkwright is chairman.

It was decided that the ball open with a series of fancy dances in which the most prominent young people in the city will participate, among these to be a group of Spanish dances. Mrs. Frank S. Ellis has been appointed chairman of this committee. Mrs. Clarence Knowles will be chairman of the committee to arrange for the "Riley," that graceful old dance which has become historic, as danced by the belles assembling each year at the Greenbrier White Sulphur Springs. Mrs. Henry M. Bunkhead has been appointed chairman of a national drill committee, and Mrs. Wilmer Moore, chairman, and Mrs. W. D. Ellis, Jr., and Mrs. Shepard Bryan, vice chairmen of a committee in charge of the peach-blossom drill and dance, in which the younger belles and beaux will participate. Committees on reception, music, decoration, supper and publicity will be announced later.

After the meeting yesterday the ladies went to the auditorium that they might the better discuss the scheme of decorations and general arrangements for the ball.

From 9 until 11 o'clock there will be the fancy dances, and general dances, and after supper the cotillion will be danced.

All the costumes will be of tissue paper; the decorative flowers will be of paper, and the favors will be of paper.

Buffet Supper.

An occasion of unusual enjoyment last night was the buffet supper given by Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Jarnagin at their home on Juniper street.

The cast of "The Rivals," the recent production by the Players' Club at the Grand, with their husbands and wives, made the company, and Miss Mary Bogle, of Seattle, Wash., who is visiting Mrs. Jarnagin, assisted in receiving.

Mrs. Jarnigan, whose playing of Lucy in "The Rivals" was one of its most delightful features, was a charming hostess, wearing a yellow brocade gown trimmed with lace, and Miss Bogle wore an empire gown of white crepe de chine, the corsage embroidered in gold.

The house was blooming with spring flowers, and the house palms and ferns made an attractive background for them.

Vases of pink hyacinths were a fragrant decoration in the drawing room, white hyacinths were used in the library, and in the dining rooms jonquils formed the basis of a glowing decoration in yellow.

The center table, with its silver dishes of dainty confections in yellow had as its centerpiece a deep bowl of jonquils, and yellow candles, unshaded, burned in silver candlesticks. A delicious supper was served at small tables, each of which was bright with jonquils.

FEW TECH STUDENTS "FLUNKED" ON EXAMS

Unusually Good Record Made by Young Engineers—Attendance Still Climbing.

With the mid-term examinations just completed, the faculty of the Tech is congratulating itself upon the high-class of work done by the student body as a whole, as evidenced by the showing made in the examinations just finished. Announcement is made that not only was the work of those who "passed," much more satisfactory than usual, but it was found necessary to drop a far smaller number of students for inefficiency than ever before in the history of the institution. President Matheson and the other members of the faculty are highly elated over the showing made.

The enrollment at the Tech at present is greater than ever before in its history. Within the past week, the number of students has been increased to 564, which is a high-water mark for the institution. Beside, there were fully 200 applicants refused last fall, because there were not accommodations for them in the dormitories.

DEFICIENCY MEASURE.

Increased by $2,250,000 It Passes the Senate.

Washington, March 2.—The deficiency bill carrying appropriations amounting to more than $19,500,000, about $250,000 of which was added by the senate, was passed by the senate today. Senator Hale met no delay in the disposition of the measure, which was passed after two hours' debate.

An amendment, appropriating $20,000 to enable the secretary of state to investigate matters in the republic of Liberia, relating to American citizens, was adopted.

Senator Lodge offered an amendment appropriating $66,000 to reimburse persons who contributed toward a ransom for the release of Ellen M. Stone, who was captured by brigands in the provinces of Turkey, and it was approved.

RUNAWAY SENATORS MAKE OVERTURES

Compromise Proposed to Break Tenn. Deadlock.

But the State-Widers Say They Will Consider No Proposition Till the Runaways Return.

Nashville, Tenn., March 2.—This is the fourth day the wheels of legislation in Tennessee have been blocked by the absence of thirteen state senators who have run away to Kentucky, Georgia, Alabama and Ohio. The only change in the situation this morning was seen in additional evidences on the part of the filibusterers who reached a compromise agreement with the majority of the senators looking to a settlement of existing differences.

It was understood this morning that overtures have been made by the administration forces in the senate, looking to a possible adjustment of existing differences which brought about the present filibustering tactics. It was also understood, however, that no compromise overtures will be considered by the state-wide members of the senate as long as a senatorial quorum remains broken.

Senator Dorsey Thomas, of Benton county, created a sensation in the senate today by making a statement in which he roundly scored Senator John Isaac Cox. Among other things, he said:

"Having no moral courage of his own, I am not surprised that he cannot understand why any man should stand up for those principles which he thinks to be right and just. Having no regard for the rights of the people, I am not surprised that he should act in utter disregard of their welfare. Being utterly craven in spirit, as shown by his actions and affiliations in the recent past, I am not surprised that he should think that his insinuations and malicious innuendoes would not be resented, but I desire to further say to the senator from Sullivan now, that his insinuations are entirely gratuitous, malicious, unwarranted, brutal and untrue.

"The senator from Sullivan was asked for the name of the man who wrote, dictated or inspired the statement presented by the senator from Sullivan on the floor of this senate on Monday, March 1, 1909, and he refused to answer, and inasmuch as he refused to divulge the name of the man who did write, inspire or dictate the said statement, I now desire to request the senator from Sullivan to state to that man who did write, inspire or dictate said statement, that the same is malicious and untrue and that the man who wrote, inspired or dictated the same is a slanderer and a falsifier."

List of Right Mills.

Montgomery, Ala., March 2.—(Special.)—Because of the fact that cotton seed meal not tagged has been sold in north Alabama, a list of authorized mills has been sent to all consumers by the department of agriculture. It is shown that one man sold meal that was not tagged, and when the customer made a kick he put some tags on it. He never agreed that the meal was up to standard, as the law says shall be the case.

SHOT ON SIGHT BY STATION AGENT

Man Who Was Killed Was Approaching Station With a Rifle.

Birmingham, Ala., March 2.—A special from Russellville says J. W. Rowland, station agent at Darlington, shot and killed Starke Daniel at the Darlington depot this morning. Rowland at once wired the sheriff at Russellville and gave himself up to a posse that went to the scene.

Daniel is said to have used violent language in the presence of a woman in the Darlington waiting room Sunday night and Rowland had him arrested. This morning Rowland saw Daniel approaching the station with a rifle and opened fire with a shotgun. Daniel fell at the first shot, but attempted to reach his gun when he was literally filled with shot, dying instantly.

Charming New Neckwear

"Sing a song of of springtime,
Boxes full of 'fluffs,'
Myriads of dainty things
Made of filmy stuffs.
When the box is opened
The girls begin to sing,
'My! How stunning they all are,
And quite the "latest thing!"'"

That indisputably correct book, "Dress," gives us this bit of poetry. It also gives us this excellent neckwear article that fits so perfectly the Allen Neckwear that the writer reproduces it verbatim:

SURELY no wise woman will deny that a woman's charm is in her daintiness. To give this much-to-be-desired impression, a woman must always preserve an appearance of spotless and immaculate cleanliness as to her "finishing touches" and undoubtedly the most important accessories are her collars and cuffs.

They must be chosen carefully, too, for an unbecoming style of collar will sound the death knell to an otherwise perfect costume. Fortunately, this season Dame Fashion is allowing her daughters a very wide field from which to select, and the clever maker of these dainty trifles seems to have anticipated every possible call upon the ingenuity of the designer. The woman with broad, squarely athletic shoulders need no longer exaggerate this effect by choking stock or collar, which, if she have a short neck, is very, very trying. The slender woman with the long, graceful neck may still find the extremely becoming high collar among this well-assorted stock. To describe them all would be almost a lifework, so varied are the designs, so bewilderingly dainty and alluring are the piles of snowy fluffiness. Still one carries away a clear and definite idea of what the predominating motif in neckwear is to be, and that is told in one word—jabot Yes! Jabots of every size, style and shape, although we will give the palm to the white ones. These are to be worn (all the far-seeing buyers and arbiters of fashion assure us) with all kinds of collars, and nothing could be prettier than the soft becomingness of these filmy lacey things. Almost every one looks well with white about the throat, and, too, they launder so well.

All these collars, jabots, etc., are made of pure linen, so their wear and style is safely guaranteed. The lace is all extremely handsome to its best advantage, and this counts for a lot, let me say, for a lace that doesn't "fall" as it should is a very far from graceful object.

As the picture plainly shows, these jabots have a style and chic that will be hard to copy and almost impossible to surpass, but what even the picture cannot show is that they are all put together to "stay put." The first wash will not be of necessity their last.

The jabots of this season will be much longer than formerly. In some cases reaching almost to the waist, they are very full and closely plaited, while the frills of lace are most generously applied. Perhaps the prettiest and smartest will be the diagonal models; pointed effects are always prettier than the square or rounded neck, and the designers have grasped that fact so that the "proportion" of the jabot is as nearly perfect as it can well be. It seems funny to talk about proportions in anything so frivolous as neckwear, but it is important, "as every woman knows."

The dear Dutch collars have come to stay, and here are some fascinating ones. They are wider than before and very lacey in effect. Such deliciously comfortable things, too, and so awfully good for the poor, long-suffering necks that have been squeezed and choked for the past season.

For "tailor-made maids" are still created the moderately stiff linen collars, but instead of colored ties again, the jabot is worn.

Great care has been taken to make jabots to match all collars, Dutch or stock effects, and this, of course, lends an extra smart touch.

The Irish lace so popular all the past season has not lost its place, and increasing demand is met with some simply lovely prices. All sorts of bows, butterflies and long jabots are on hand, while the Dutch collars baffle description really. The designs are so new, so artistic, and all arranged so as to make becoming lines to face and throat. Every collar or stock has a bow or jabot to match.

Despite the leaning toward lacey and frilly effects, there is still to be a demand for the always becoming collar and cuff sets, which lend such a demurely trim finish to the tailored shirt or tub suit. These are imported and are to be shown in striped effects, plain white or hand-embroidered; a pretty idea to match as nearly as possible in the stripe or dot of the collar and cuffs the color note of the costume. White jabots, very long and very full, are worn with these collars to relieve the rather severe lines given by the plain collar.

VICTIMS TELL JURY ABOUT SWINDLERS

Ten Men Gave Up the Sum of $100,000.

Grand Jury Heard of Workings of the Swindlers From Men, Who Lost Anywhere From $5,000 to $37,000.

Little Rock, Ark., March 2.—The anteroom of the grand jury today was crowded with witnesses to tell of the workings of the gang of race swindlers recently arrested here. From the men who will testify over $100,000 was secured. Mabray and Clark were identified by four men from Colorado and two from Minnesota as being leaders of the gang which victimized them at Council Bluffs. The attorney for Henry Stockwell, the jockey, refused to allow him to testify before the grand jury.

Those who are present to testify are J. C. Cavanaugh, of Pine Bluff, who was relieved of $37,000 on a wrestling match in New Orleans; J. G. Kile, of Cisco, Ill., who lost $10,000 here February 13 on a horse race; J. P. Walker, J. C. Bowman and C. N. McCain, of Denver and G. S. Bedford, of Greeley, Colo., who lost heavily on horse races at Council Bluffs. J. F. Tierney, of Streetor, Ill., who lost $10,000 on a wrestling match in New Orleans; W. N. Ballew, who lost $30,000 on a horse race at Council Bluffs; W. W. McGrath, of Pine City, Minn., who lost the same amount; Samuel Suttor, of Cass Lake, Minn., who lost $5,000 on a horse race at Council Bluffs.

It is probable that A. J. Warner and J. C. Johnson, who were not identified by any of the men but Kile, who was victimized here, will not be taken to Council Bluffs, although they will be indicted here.

CHIEF OF POLICE HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Bullet Passed Near Head of Rome Officer While Standing on Street.

Rome, Ga., March 2.—This morning in broad daylight, while Chief of Police Charles L. Harris was standing in front of Todd's grocery, on Broad street, near Fourth avenue, an unknown person shot at him. The bullet whizzed within a foot of his head and struck a glass window of the grocery store.

The street was filled with people, yet no one heard the report of the gun. The shot evidently came from Masonic Temple, across the street, a distance of 120 feet. Several stores on the ground floor were all open, but investigation proved no one had shot from there. It is supposed that the bullet came from someone concealed in a stairway which is directly across the street. If this was an attempt at assassination no motive can be ascribed, unless it was people angered at the chief for official duties.

MANY PROHI CASES ARE NOLLE PROSSED

Hundreds of Violators of the Law Escape in Alabama.

Birmingham, Ala., March 2.—Following a recent ruling, that of the Alabama supreme court il the Julius Mary case, it appears that hundreds of cases against violators of the prohibition law are to be nolle prossed. Thirteen cases of this character were taken off the criminal court docket this morning, demurrers that the warrants were faulty being sustained. It appears that practically all arrests last year were made on warrants charging commission of the offense "within twelve months."

The supreme court has held that the warrant must affirmatively show commission of the offense since January 1, 1908, the date Birmingham became prohibition territory.

Fight Over Bailiff's Salary.

Brown House, Macon, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—Solicitor General Walter Grace declined in a letter to the board of county commissioners, to let his bailiff over whose salary there has been a considerable row of late, make monthly reports of all his acts to the commissioners. The solicitor said many state secrets might thereby become exposed, but the commissioners thought it was merely a dodge to keep from letting the general public into the facts as to what the office pays. Several days ago the commissioners agreed to let the solicitor's bailiff draw a salary of $50 from the county. Now that the solicitor refuses to allow the officer to make reports to the body to whom he must look for his pay, the commissioners will probably cut off the salary and let the solicitor pay him. The commissioners first agreed to let the bailiff draw $2 per day while the grand jury is in session. The matter has attracted no little attention in Macon and the entire community.

THEATERS

At the Grand.

John Drew comes to the Grand this afternoon and tonight in "Jack Straw," the comedy by W. Somerset Maugham, in which he recently finished a successful four months' engagement at the Empire theater, New York city. Mr. Maugham is also the author of "Lady Frederick," the comedy in which Miss Ethel Barrymore is playing this season. These are the only two examples of his work that have been seen on this side of the Atlantic as yet, but several others are promised, for he had no less than four, all running at once, in different London theaters last winter, and all successful. Besides he is writing more and the managers are buying them up as fast as he can turn them out.

In "Jack Straw," an eccentric Pomeranian prince is the central figure. Known as Jack Straw, he has been a sailor, a bartender, an engine driver and an actor. When the play opens he is a waiter in a swagger London hotel. To punish a lady for her snobbishness, he allows himself to be introduced to her under his real name and title, as the Archduke Sebastian of Pomerania. What is begun in jest soon becomes serious, for the prince falls in love with the pretty daughter of the snobbish lady. In the end he reveals his real identity and everything winds up happily, not, however, before his future mother-in-law has been taught a much needed lesson in good manners.

As the prince, Mr. Drew has one of the best roles of his career. There are other well-known characters in the play for Miss Rose Coghlan, Miss Mary Boland, Miss Adelaide Prince, Miss Grace Henderson, Edgar L. Davenport, Frank Goldsmith, Mario Majeroni, E. Soldene Powell and Edwin Nicander.

"The Gay Musician."

It has been many years since a comic opera has met with such instantaneous success as has Julian Edwards' latest composition, "The Gay Musician," which comes to the Grand Friday and Saturday for three performances.

To the verdict of New York, Baltimore and Philadelphia, where "The Gay Musician" played to crowded houses, must be added the endorsement of Boston, Montreal, Toronto, Pittsburg, Cincinnati and St. Louis, for the praises of "The Gay Musician" were heard on all sides, and the theaters where it played were taxed to their capacity nightly.

At the Orpheum.

Souvenirs will be given to all ladies in attendance at the Orpheum show this afternoon, a splendid gift having been secured which will be appreciated by the ladies. This is the Orpheum's first souvenir matinee and it ought to prove an interesting occasion. This popular playhouse has been a favorite for the entertainment of women and children for a long time, and the souvenirs are offered as a token of the appreciation of the management for the hearty support of the ladies. The show this week is a big one in every sense of the word. "The Star Bout" is an unusually big attraction itself, and all the other features are the cleanest and best offered this year, if not the entire season. Every number is most pleasing and entertaining and the liberal applause given each act is evidence the show is making a hit.

At the Lyric.

Representative gatherings are crowding at the Lyric this week, and it is predicted that the "sold out" notice will go on duty by Wednesday unless the tremendous demand for reservations ceases, and there is hardly any probability that such a happening will be recorded.

"Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" is without a question the most attractive offering the management of the beautiful playhouse has been able to offer, and as a matter of fact it is one of the greatest bargains any manager could offer, for the play is one of the standard star successes of the theatrical history. It has visited Atlanta but twice before this engagement and has always been popular.

HAVEN'T PAID FINES.

Savannah Dealers Must Come Across, and Pretty Quick.

Savannah, Ga., March 2.—Twenty liquor dealers who were fined by Recorder Schwarz, a year ago, have not yet paid the fines assessed against them and today the recorder issued a ukase in the shape of commitment papers for the delinquents.

The fines, by agreement, were allowed to go over from the time they were assessed until the supreme court should decide one of the cases as a test. The defendant lost out in November, but the fines were not paid up. Pay or go to jail is the defendants' alternative tomorrow.

Athens, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—T. D. Lamb, express messenger for the Southern Express Company on the Gainesville Midland road, between Athens and Gainesville, was arrested yesterday on the charge of having taken $2,000. He was placed under a $2,000 bond and, being unable to give it, was sent to jail.

He has asked Judge Brand to reduce the bond, as he is not able to give more than $1,500. Judge Brand will hear his application for reduced bail on the 6th.

New Train Schedules.

Macon, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—Members of the Chamber of Commerce in their meeting this afternoon arranged for a committee whose duty will be to confer with the Central railway officials looking to the placing of new trains from here to Tennille and out the Columbus branch. Two new trains will be sought with schedules arranged so as to accommodate the travel in and out of Macon.

DIVORCE-SEEKING WIVES SCORE THEIR HUSBANDS

Husbands were scored severely by their wives yesterday when four suits for total divorce and one for alimony, were filed with the clerk of the superior court, the charges being widely different.

That he staid out at dances at night until 12 and 2 and even 3 o'clock in the morning, leaving her in the house alone, and that he one time dashed a cup of cold water over her while she was rocking the baby, were some of the allegations which Mrs. Nellie A. Gloer made against her husband, Harry V. Gloer, in her suit for total divorce.

Mrs. Gloer said her husband would gamble away his money and compel her to live with her mother. She claimed that Gloer deserted her on August 10, 1907. The custody of the minor child, Charles C. Gloer, is sought by Mrs. Gloer. Attorney G. A. K. Stevens is her representative.

Alleging that her husband is a palmist and hypnotist and that he claims to be possessed of supernatural powers, with which he terrorized her by threatening to use them on her, Mrs. Florence Evelin Searls filed a suit for total divorce against Charles Victor Searls. It is alleged that the marriage occurred in Atlanta, June 18, 1908, and that the couple separated six weeks thereafter. Mrs. Searls also makes the allegation that Searls insulted her by his improper attentions to other women in her presence. She is represented by Attorney R. P. Jones.

Charging wilful desertion and cruel and inhumane treatment to her and her baby boy, Mrs. Myrtle Powell filed a suit for total divorce against W. R. Powell, asking the restoration of her maiden name, Myrtle Taylor, and the custody of the child. The marriage took place in Elbert county. Mrs. Powell has for her attorney, Z. B. Rogers.

Mrs. Susie E. Stanfield, through Attorney F. C. Foster, Sr., filed a suit for total divorce against her husband, Lorenzo Stanfield, whom she claims has abandoned her for a period of more than three years. Mrs. Stanfield seeks the custody of her son, Booker T. Stanfield, aged 5 years, and wishes her maiden name, Susie C. Bracy, restored.

Following the suit for divorce which she filed against her husband, C. W. Linkenback, a cabinet-maker, in May, 1908, Mrs. Lena B. Linkenback filed a petition for alimony and the custody of her two minor children, Pearls and Elsie. Judge J. T. Pendleton signed an order requiring the defendant to appear before him on March 15. Mrs. Linkenback is represented by G. A. K. Stevens.

PEACHTREE STREET HOME.
RIGHT in the swell residence section of Peachtree street, this side of Tenth street, surrounded by handsome homes of Atlanta's representative families, I can sell you the prettiest little home in the city. It has parlor, library, dining room, hall and kitchen on first floor, with four beautifully arranged bed rooms, connecting with two baths, on the second floor. Dressing rooms and plenty closet space. The interior of this house is beautifully finished in quartered oak, hardwood floors, and is furnace-heated. As a whole, it is, without question, the most complete home you will be shown anywhere. The lot has a beautiful elevation, being perfectly level and running back 200 feet to an alley, with larg stable and servants' house in the rear. Now, listen to the price on this: I can sell you this elegant Peachtree home for $14,500—$5,500 cash, balance to suit you. Think of it. A home in the sweetest part of Peachtree street, surrounded by twenty-five and thirty-five thousand-dollar homes, at the price they ask you for built-to-sell houses on side streets. Come to see me and let me put you in the swim.

WASHINGTON STREET.
IN TEN MINUTES of the city hall I have a corner lot fronting 68 feet on Washington street. This has on it an elegant home of 12 rooms, finished in hardwoods, polished floors, and furnace-heated; was built for a home and cost something like $22,000, but it now belongs to an estate and must be sold. As a close-in home you cannot find a more desirable location, and it will grow in value every day you own it. As a close-in apartment site, property on the north side would cost you double this amount at the present time, and it is reasonable to believe that values on the south side will follow along with the north side. So get wise and own a piece of close-in property. Can sell on very easy terms or would take property in exchange. See me.

WHITEHALL STREET.
IN THE LINE of enhancements on Whitehall street I have a large slate-roof house, on a lot running back to Forsyth street, giving you two street fronts. If you are in the market to speculate, this is your chance, as there is no possible reason for this piece of property not growing in value every day you own it. Price $10,500.

CARNEGIE WAY.
FRONTING 50 feet on Carnegie way I offer you a piece of property at $12,500, that is just as sure to make you money in the next twelve months as the twelve months are coming. Can't you see a profit in a piece of property that is offered to you cheaper than you can buy for on the side streets in this section?

Hester's Monthly Cotton Statement.

New Orleans, March 2.—Secretary Hester's New Orleans cotton exchange statement issued today covers the monthly movement to the close of February.

Compared with last year it shows an increase for the month in round figures of 21,000 bales, compared with year before last, a decrease of 228,000, and with 1906 of 221,000.

The total for February was 1,001,317, against 980,495 last year, 1,229,089 year before last and 780,651 same time in 1906.

The movement from September 1st to February 28, inclusive, shows receipts at all United States ports 8,133,219, against 6,953,805 last year, 8,244,434 year before last and 6,224,496 same time in 1906; overland across the Mississippi, Ohio and Potomac rivers to northern mills and Canada 928,478, against 484,539 last year, 901,891 year before last and 677,166 same time in 1906; southern mills takings, exclusive of quantity consumed at southern outports 1,440,000, against 1,391,000 last year, 1,456,000 year before last and 1,375,947 same time in 1906; and interior stock in excess, those held at the commencement of the season 627,491, against 384,505 last year, 451,007 year before last and 490,873 same time in 1906.

These make the total movement of the cotton crop brought into sight during the six months ending close of February 11,129,248, against 9,213,849 last year, 11,063,332 year before last and 8,768,482 same time in 1906.

Northern spinners took during February 261,738 bales, against 215,949 last year and 278,986 year before last, increasing their total for the six months to 1,973,397, against 1,167,930 last year and 1,914,764 the year before. This makes their average weekly takings for the season 76,319, against 44,782 last year, and 74,751 the year before.

Foreign exports for the six months of the season have been 6,460,590 bales, showing an increase over last season of 625,856, and an increase over the same period year before last of 186,205.

Stocks and seaboard and the 29 leading southern interior markets on February 28 were 1,495,651, against 1,122,701 the same date last year, and 1,654,735 the year before.

Including port and interior town stocks left over from the previous season and the number of bales of the current crop brought into sight during the last six months, the supply has been 11,410,595, against 9,561,855 last year and 11,351,102 the year before.

Up to the close of February last year 79 62-100 per cent of the cotton crop had been marketed, and for the same six months in 1907 the percentage of the crop brought into sight was 81 81-100, and for the same time in 1906 the percentage marketed was 77 28-100.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL THE MARKETS

COTTON IS HIGHER BY 7 TO 16 POINTS

Higher Cables and Continued Dry Weather in Southwest Were Main Factors.

New York, March 2.—The cotton market was more active today and closed firm at a net advance of 7@16 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of 3@5 points, on more aggressive support from leading spot interests, and rather better cables than expected, while there also appeared to be some buying on continued dry weather in the southwest. After selling about 6 to 8 points net higher, prices eased off slightly, under local bear pressure and realizing, but a continuation of bull support and reports of a better spot demand from the south started covering during the middle session, and the market acted very firm after midday, closing within a point or two of the best. At the high point of the day old crop months were about thirty points above the low level of last week. The talk of a better spot demand for filling March engagements and the support from bullish spot houses were the chief features, and led to some undoing of straddles between old and new crop positions, which had been put out in expectation of a new crop premium. The only precipitation officially reported in the southwest was a trace at Taylor, Texas, and private wires said that there were no rains in sight. Southern spot markets officially reported early were unchanged to 1-16c higher. New Orleans wires reported that some buyers were there from the interior, trying to fill March engagements. It is estimated by local authorities that the new spindleage under construction in Lancashire will consume about 329,000 bales of American cotton per year. Sales of futures estimated at 225,000 bales.

Receipts at the ports today 23,788 bales, against 34,230 last week, and 26,830 last year.

For the week 115,000 bales, against 121,789 last week, and 116,236 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 6,775 bales, against 4,946 last year, and at Houston 7,997 bales, against 7,823 last year.

Cotton, spot closed quiet, 15 points higher; middling uplands, $9.85; middling gulf, $10.10; sales 50 bales.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, March 2.—Cotton, spots were steady. Low ordinary 5 9-16, nominal; ordinary 6⅝, nominal; good ordinary 7 13-16; low middling 8⅝; middling 9½; good middling 9 15-16; middling fair 10 5-16; fair 11 1-16, nominal. Receipts 6,775; stocks 279,322. Sales on the spot 1,650 bales; to arrive 1,850. A better demand than usual was in evidence coming from exporters wishing to fill March shipments, but offerings were light and trading was transacted in consequence.

Futures opened steady at an advance of 3 to 4 points on a better Liverpool market than expected. No rain was reported in Texas, which increased the nervousness of shorts and caused them to cover freely, putting prices up on themselves. In the afternoon session a good spot demand increased the advance which at the highest amounted to 13 to 18 points. The close was steady with prices showing an advance 13 to 16 points over yesterday's closing.

Dry Goods.

New York, March 2.—The dry goods markets are generally quiet in the primary division. The fall men's wear orders in the large houses have been very good. The heavier cottons are easier. Yarns are little changed and the low numbers are selling at very irregular prices. There is little demand of importance reported in the export division. Jobbers continue doing a very fair trade, all things considered.

Liverpool Cotton.

Liverpool, March 2.—Cotton: Spot, moderate business done; prices 2 points higher; American middling fair 5.61; good middling 5.25; middling 5.05; low middling 4.85; good ordinary 4.45; ordinary 4.10. The sales of the day were 10,000 bales, of which 1,000 were for speculation and export and included 9,300 American. Receipts 43,000 bales, including 41,400 American. Futures opened dull and closed quiet and steady.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, March 2.—Texas is without the needed rains over the entire state, though showers are reported as having fallen in the San Gelo district on Saturday night. Liverpool came somewhat better, causing buying here for arbitrage account. This was followed by local buying, which continued to the close, when one of the buyers sold, taking profits, as did outside holders on the advance.

Today's market was largely local, based on the absence of rain in Texas and the lack of any selling. The arbitrage interests seem buyers each day of a more or less amount, which is supplied by the outside liquidation. Our local traders are inclined to the bull side, because of these factors, so that the short interest is remarkably small, despite the poor accounts from spinners.

Wool.

St. Louis, March 2.—Wool nominal; medium grades, clothing and combing 19@24c; light fine 16@20c; heavy fine 10@16c; tub-washed 24@23c.

Boston, March 2.—The feature of the local wool market is in its extreme dullness. Old domestic stocks are practically exhausted; foreign arrivals have fallen off, and there have been only light receipts of new wool from Arizona. On the lightest kind of sales the leading domestic quotations range as follows:

Ohio and Pennsylvania fleeces 34@35c; No. 1 washed 38@39; No. 2 washed 36@39; fine unwashed 23@24; half-blood combing 30@31; three-eighth blood combing 30.; quarter blood combing 29@30; Delaine washed 28@40; Delaine unwashed 30.

Kentucky and Indiana three-eighths blood 29@30; quarter-blood 28@29.

Scoured values: Texas fine 12 months 62@63; fine six to eight months 53@55; fine fall 48@50.

LESS ACTIVITY SHOWN IN STOCK MARKET

Prices Moved Forward and Backward, But Not Far in Either Direction.

New York, March 2.—A contest for advantage between the professional factions in the speculation made up the stock market almost altogether today. Forward and backward movements alternated all day; not going far in either direction, but with a dwindling degree of activity that argued growing languor of the speculative interest. Developments were not important, although the news from the metal trades was watched with keen attention. Another advance in the price of refined copper, both in London and at the New York metal exchange, was regarded as confirmatory of reports of an improved demand. The extent of that demand was a subject of dispute and the price movement was looked upon with some expressed suspicion of manipulation. The conviction is strong that when the decline in the metals has reached its limits, there will be a large waiting demand developed, which will lead to early trade revival. The lack of faith in the effectiveness of the recovery in copper was indicated by the languid movement of the copper industrials in connection with the news. Reports from the steel trade also indicated that the cut in prices had brought out some orders, but the amount was declared to be small. The effect on sentiment was offset by the announcement of posting of wage reductions in the Lackawanna steel works at Buffalo, the news having a somewhat ominous influence. The wage question received additional consideration by reason of the statement published in behalf of the anthracite operators. The refutation offered of the claims formulated by the miners was evidently an announcement of a refusal to comply with them. The motives for the early selling of stocks were found in these developments. The selling showed signs of raiding tactics by the bears and the prompt recovery confirmed this view. The special weakness of Erie was due to the application to the public service commission for modification of the terms permitted for the proposed bond issue. The Union Pacific and Southern Pacific net earnings statements for January were utilized to push the rally, but the movement was totally without enthusiasm. The reduction in operating cost, also, was more moderate than for some recent months. Except in a few southern railroads the roads thus far reporting show an increase in the expense item, compared with January of last year, with corresponding modification of the increase in net earnings. This increase in expenses in several cases was so considerable as to overweigh the gross increase and make the net return less than even the meager return of January last year. Canadian Pacific, Chicago and Northwestern and M., K. & T. were cases in point. Strength in individual minor stocks was a sustaining influence in the later market. Hopeful expectations of the incoming administration also were professed by the professional buyers of stocks. The dullness approached stagnation at times, during the day, but the latter advances were held.

Bonds were steady. Total sales, par value, $3,580,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

WHEAT MAKES SPURT ON DAMAGE REPORTS

July Sells at $1.06—Market Closes Strong at Net Gains for the Day.

Chicago, March 2.—Crop damage reports and heavy sales of the cash grain caused a 2-cent advance in wheat prices here today. The July delivery incidentally touched a new high record mark for the season at $1.06. The market closed strong at net gains for the day of ¼ to 1¼c. Corn, oats and provisions also closed strong.

The bulge in wheat followed a weak opening, and was the occasion of marked activity in the wheat pit. Trade in the July delivery was especially heavy, owing to a stampede among shorts who bought freely during the last half of the session a a result of reports from Texas and southern Illinois telling of injury to the fall-sown crop. Absence of rain during the winter months was said to have caused considerable deterioration in the condition of the wheat crop in Texas. A revived demand for the cash grain helped the May delivery. Local sales for the day aggregated 129,000 bushels, the great bulk of which was red winter wheat. The market opened rather weak with prices unchanged to ⅜c lower. Before the end of the first half hour, however, prices had advanced about ½c from the low point on buying by commission houses. For a time trading was dull and prices held fairly steady. During the final hour prices advanced steadily, and at the close were almost at the top. May being at $1.18⅜, and July $1.05⅛@1.06.

New high record marks for corn were established today when the May delivery sold at 67c per bushel, and the July at 66⅝c. The advance was due chiefly to the bulge in wheat, which brought out active covering by shorts. The market closed strong with prices almost at the top at net gains of ⅝ to 1⅛c. May closed at 67, and July at 66¼@66⅝c.

The price of oats also advanced to new high record marks for the season as a result of the strength of wheat and corn. The market closed strong with prices up to ⅞c compared with the previous close, May being at 55⅝, and July at 55⅜.

Provisions were strong all day, and at the close prices showed net gains of 15@17½ to 22½c compared with yesterday's final quotations. The market was suitably affected by the monthly statement of contract stocks in store here which recorded a considerable decrease, and also by a decrease in the world's stock of lard.

FORT McPHERSON.

One of the largest crowds that ever assembled on the parade grounds gathered yesterday afternoon to witness the full dress parade of the Seventeenth infantry. Dressed in their new uniforms of blue, the soldier boys presented a magnificent spectacle as they swung around the upper part of the parade grounds to pass in review before Lieutenant Colonel Colville P. Terrett. As they passed in column of companies the spectators applauded, and the boys undoubtedly deserved it, as they marched as straight as an arrow and with the precision of a piece of well-oiled machinery. A fine program was rendered by the famous Seventeenth infantry band before parade, and as the weather grows warmer the attendance will undoubtedly increase, and the fort will become very popular with the people of Atlanta and vicinity.

By an act of congress a strip of land 15 feet in width will be cut off the eastern side of the reservation to make way for the widening of the road between Atlanta and College Park, and any necessary reconstruction work will be done at the expense of Fulton county.

Restraining Order Granted.

Brown House, Macon, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—A lively tilt that ended in a final restraining order preventing J. C. Scarborough from operating a barber-shop on Fourth street has been before Judge Felton, in chambers, today. Willis and James Braswell, colored barbers, bought Scarborough's place on Fourth street, and before they could get well under way, according to their claims made in court, Scarborough set up another shop near them. They paid $1,200 for the shop, and Scarborough was not to operate again on Fourth. The colored barbers got after Scarborough with an injunction, and after several days of scrappy fight another shop was equipped in the Edgerton hotel, and Scarborough was there. Today the end came to the fight when Judge Felton restrained Scarborough from further operating. He may work as an employee, but not as proprietor.

The right is asked to build and operate pleasure resorts, hospitals and sanitariums for the treatment and cure of all diseases by every method and every remedy known to the medical profession and to establish and maintain training schools for nurses. The capital stock is to be $10,000 with privilege to increase to an amount not exceeding $100,000. The principal office is to be in Fulton county, but the right is asked to establish branch offices and conduct business elsewhere. The petitioners are represented by W. C. Cousins.

The Rhodes-Haverty Furniture Company, who recently dissolved partnership, made application in the superior court yesterday to change the firm name to "The Haverty Furniture Company." The request was made in the form of a petition to amend the original charter, and was signed by J. J. Haverty, president, and Clarence Haverty, secretary and treasurer. There will be no change in the provisions of the original charter.

The Standard Of Banking

THE THREE FACTORS IN maintaining a high standard of banking are (1) the close and careful attention paid by the bank's directors to loans and investments—(2) the wide banking experience of its officers, and (3) the promptness and reliability of its clerical force.

The careful investigation by the directors of the Atlanta National Bank of all prospective new loans; the thorough acquaintance of its officers with every detail of modern banking, and the painstaking care manifested by its employees, stamps this as a bank of the highest order, and assures its patrons the very best service it is possible to obtain.
